Mercury Drop to 10 Degrees To Hit Atlanta Friday

Atlanta Autoists and House-Owners Warned To Attend to Radiators and Water Pipes Today.

The severest cold wave of the present season is sweeping through the middle west from the Great Lakes region, leaving death and desolation in its wake, and is scheduled to strike Atlanta today, forcing the temperature down approximately 40 degrees to a minimum of 20, while Friday is expected to show a bottom reading of at least 10 degrees, according to the official forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, who advises that water be shut off and automobile radiators be prepared for "real winter."

With a high pressure area centering in the northern part of the middle west, where a temperature of 30 below zero was reported Wednesday, and the barometer here dropping rapidly Wednesday afternoon, conditions are "just right" for the frigid wave to sweep the entire southeast, borne along on the wings of a gale which is expected to reach a 30-mile velocity even in Atlanta, Mr. von Herrmann declared.

No part of the south will escape the effects of the storm, bureau officials declare, and warnings have been issued for practically the entire Atlantic seaboard and as far south as Louisiana. Freezing temperatures are anticipated in Florida while a drop to the low twenties is expected in New Orleans. The northern part of the state is preparing to withstand temperatures as low as 10 or 12, dispatches said Wednesday.

Four deaths from traffic accidents due to cold and snow were reported from the middle west and winds of hurricane intensity wrecked several houses and caused much damage in the vicinity of Oakdale, La.

Rain, snow and ice blanketed the middle west Wednesday as the gale swept out of the northwest, dispatches reported, and wreaked havoc with tele-

FLORIDIAN PRAISES "HEALTHIEST GIRL" ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Miss Florence Smock, 17-year-old Lake county, Florida, girl, was announced on the floor of the house today by Representative Green of that state as winner of the nation-wide health contest conducted by 4-H Clubs.

Congressman Green described her as "five feet, four and a half inches tall, weighing 120 pounds, is a striking brunette, possessing the charm and beauty of health's perfection."

"Her alternate, Miss Mildred Hillard, of Brooksville, Fla., scored almost as high as did Miss Smock," he said.

No matter how good an afternoon paper may be, it faces a real handicap when it comes to "delivering the goods" to the advertiser. We have reference to the "wall of darkness." Messages read at night are all too often forgotten when morning comes around. The "action" paper is the morning paper—The Atlanta Constitution—which now has the largest circulation in its history, 14,000 more for its daily editions than the second newspaper.

Connie Franklin 'Murder' Mystery In Hands of Jury

Taken by Death

FRANK E. LOWENSTEIN.

F. E. LOWENSTEIN DIES AT RESIDENCE

Prominent Atlanta Business Man and Leader in Civic Activities Ill for Months.

Frank E. Lowenstein, president of Norris, Inc., prominent Atlanta business man, leader in civic activities for many years, and an art enthusiast, died at his residence, 1215 Ponce de Leon avenue, N. E., at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night. His end came after a long illness, the last three months of which he was confined to his home.

Last rites will be held at the residence at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and interment will be in the family receiving vault at West View. Dr. David Marx will officiate. Sam R. Greenberg and Company will be in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Lowenstein, who was 49 years old, was born in Hickory, N. C., and was educated at the North Carolina A. & M. College at Raleigh. Coming to Atlanta thirty years ago, Mr. Lowenstein was influential in building up one of the greatest businesses in the south in Norris, Inc., which he, his brothers and A. L. Norris founded. From a small beginning the great confectionery firm, which he headed when he died, had become known the world over.

In addition to being president of this company he also was president of the Monarch Manufacturing Company and of the Lowenstein Investment Company.

Although interested in many lines of activities and prominent in all civic and philanthropic movements, art held his chief attention. He was a director of the High Museum and had collected many valuable art objects during his many trips abroad, which he devoted in part to increasing his knowledge of sculpture and paintings. Furthermore he carried

Alleged "Victim" Denies He Was Slain—Claims He Was Drunk on Night of "Murder."

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Dec. 8. (AP)—The Connie Franklin murder case was given to the jury at 10:05 o'clock tonight.

The jury received the case after three hours of arguments of counsel revolving largely around the question of whether Franklin was slain by the four defendants or was the man sitting in the courtroom who claims to be the same Franklin.

Judge S. M. Bone instructed the jury that if there was any doubt as to the identity of the man who testified he was the Connie Franklin allegedly slain by the four men on trial, it was the jury's duty to give the defendants the benefit of the doubt and acquit them.

Under the instructions the jury may also find them guilty of either first or second degree murder. The penalty for first degree murder is life imprisonment or death in the electric chair, at the jury's discretion, and for second degree murder imprisonment for from 5 to 21 years.

M. W. Thompson, deputy prosecuting attorney, began arguments for the state at 7:10 p. m. Judge Bone allowed an hour and a half to the side.

As the arguments started the courtroom was crowded to capacity with the space inside the rail filled with spectators.

The four defendants, Herman Greenway, Joe White, Bill Younger and Hubert Hester, were grouped together behind a little table used by counsel. With them were S. H. Greenway, 60-year-old father, who could scarcely hold back the tears, and Sam Hester, a typical mountaineer, father of another one of the defendants.

One of the most interested spectators was the man who says he is the Connie Franklin. The four are accused of murdering. Dressed in rough gray trousers and a blue denim jumper over a sweater, he sat on top of a table near the defendants.

"Franklin" himself took the stand today, and under both defense and prosecution questioning asserted he had merely been stunned the night of the alleged murder, and that he was very much alive.

He told of getting "drunk" with the men on trial for the night of the slaying and of falling from his horse. When he recovered his senses several hours later, he testified, he made his way to the home of Herman Greenway, one of the defendants, and later left the community.

He testified he worked in several different sections of Arkansas until three weeks ago, when he first learned of the supposed murder, and returned to Mountain View.

"Franklin" spent two hours on the stand maintaining he was the man supposedly murdered. Yesterday the jury heard Tillar Reminer, 17-year-old former sweetheart of the Connie Franklin who disappeared, testify that he was not the Connie Franklin she knew.

"Franklin" testified today that he was 33 years old, that he had been married, and that he was a former inmate of the state hospital for nervous diseases.

He identified a letter he had written to the hospital and which was later sent to defense attorneys here. At the request of defense counsel he wrote his name which he said was "Marrion Franklin Rogers" for comparison with other specimens of his signature.

BRITISH AVIATORS DIE IN ATTEMPT AT FLIGHT RECORD

Two Pilots Killed When Plane Hits Mountain in Storm During London-to-Cape Hop.

TUNIS, Dec. 18.—(United News.) Two crushed bodies and a broken plane in the arid mountain region of Zaghouan, Tunisia, marked the end today of one of the most ambitious long distance flights ever attempted.

The bodies were those of Squadron Leader A. G. Jones-Williams and Flight Lieutenant N. H. Jenkins, of the British royal air force, and the plane was one in which they hopped off from Cranwell airdrome near London yesterday morning on a projected non-stop flight to Capetown, South Africa.

The plane crashed into a mountain during a storm last night. The bodies and the wrecked machine were found this afternoon by native Arabs who carried the word to French authorities. Investigation established the identities of the men and their plane.

The bodies will be brought to Tunis from the scene of the crash, many miles to the south, tomorrow morning with full military honors.

Although their Fairey-Napier monoplane carried a radio capable of sending to either London or Capetown, no word had been heard from the fliers since they passed west of the island of Sardinia, in the Mediterranean, at 4 p. m. yesterday.

Twenty-four hours elapsed in which their whereabouts was a mystery. The British royal air force, to which the men belonged, said they must have passed over Tunis and reached central Africa, and that their radio probably had failed.

The native Arabs arrived in the town of Saint Marie Du Zit and said a plane had fallen on the desert and two aviators killed. They did not state the names of the men, but the scene, between the Gulf of Gabes and the Salt Lakes, was in a direct line with Sardinia.

The natives were unable to describe the markings of the plane. They did, however, give approximate dimensions, indicating the machine was the Fairey-Napier.

French authorities in Tunisia, which is a French protectorate, prepared to send a relief expedition, although severe storms were reported in the area. They said a French plane commanded by a pilot named Lafalle or Lasalle had left Tunis Sunday afternoon for Benghazi, Libya, and had not been heard from since. But they did not believe the wrecked plane was his.

From the time Jones-Williams and Jenkins left Cranwell airdrome there were no reports that they had been sighted. Clouds obscured their passage at high speed over France. The only word of their progress came from the fliers, who said they had reached the Salt Lakes region of Tunisia between 9 and 10 o'clock last night.

The fliers, both young and enthusiastic, had made extensive preparations for their flight and had set out with high hopes. They carried a special reserve of compact food to last them for months if forced down in the African desert or jungles. They had sporting rifles and heavy knives for killing game and cutting their way through forests.

KAI-SHEK CLAIMS VICTORY IN CHINA

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18.—(AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek announced today that the loyal forces had broken the back of the rebellion which had brought the nationalist government to "the brink of collapse."

The government forces, he asserted, had been victorious in the several areas in which the rebels took up arms.

The revolt, however, said Chiang, was the most serious crisis which the government has experienced. For a time, he admitted, "our fate hung by a single hair—the loyalty and bravery of officers and men of the nationalist army whose courage never faltered."

Asserting that rebellious and mutinous troops had been crushed in widely separated areas, the nationalist military headquarters stated that the Pukow mutineers, whose numbers had reached many thousands as they threatened to march against Nanking had been dispersed by nationalist troops and the insurgent commander, General Shi Yu-san, was fleeing toward the western part of Anhwei province.

Advices from Hankow said nationalist troops were driving northward through Honan province and were expected to end quickly the revolt under Tang Sheng-Chi, mutinous nationalist general.

Cold To Bring Suffering To "Opportunity" Poor

WILEY L. MOORE TO SEND IN CHECK FOR $50

BY BEN COOPER.

Bitter, penetrating cold! Shrieking winds whistling around the corners. Fine weather for pneumonia, suffering and misery.

Such is the forecast by the weather bureau. Most of us mortals make enough money to protect ourselves against the sleet and low temperatures of winter. We are able to buy enough food to keep the red blood circulating and fight off colds and other ills of winter-time.

But, how about those who are not so fortunate? What about a little family living in a rude shack which acts as a host to all sorts of drafts... a family whose coal supply is encompassed within one single barrel... a family which does not know where the next meal is coming from?

And, what about a widow woman with six children... kids whose clothes are scant protection against 10 and 15-degree temperatures, and whose pale blood can scarcely withstand the onslaught of fierce weather?

WILEY L. MOORE TO SEND IN $50.

Wiley L. Moore, president of the Wofford Oil Company, read the "dope" in Wednesday's Constitution. Mr. Moore gave a thought to these poor families whose slender resources give scant promise of bringing them through the hard winter months. And Mr. Moore acted on that thought. The result was that the Opportunities Editor received the glad news that Mr. Moore is sending a check for $50 as his company's contribution to Atlanta's 10 neediest families.

George A. Poulos, proprietor of a soda fountain and cigar store across the street from The Constitution, also read the wintry forecast in the paper. The writer dropped into Mr. Poulos' store to get a cigar, and was called to one side. Ten dollars passed into his hand, with the remark from Mr. Poulos: "You're handling this opportunity business, aren't you? Well, add this to the fund. I hope you get every cent you're asking for."

One-tenth of the gross receipts of the Blue Boar cafeteria, at Forsyth and Marietta streets, during today, Friday and Saturday will be given to the Opportunities fund by C. F. Palmer, president of the cafeteria. It was announced by J. R. Nix, vice president and general manager.

Here is an opportunity to buy a good meal, enjoy it in attractive surroundings, and at the same time do a good deed. Remember, the offer of Mr. Palmer holds good today, Friday and Saturday, so do your duty and eat heartily.

That's the right sort of spirit with which to approach the happiest time of the year. Let's not think so much of ourselves, but more of the poor people who, without our aid, will face the hardest of hard times during the coming year. Christmas is almost upon us. Daily the shoppers throng the streets. They jostle you off the sidewalk in their eager rush to buy, buy, buy.

WHERE IS THE MONEY FOR WORTHY CHARITY?

Somebody must have money! Somewhere in this great and prosperous city there are people with more than their share of worldly goods—people who can sit back and order automobiles

HOOVER IS NAMED BY SUGAR LOBBYIST

Letter From Lakin Says President Sought "Contact" Between Sugar Men and Committee.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(AP)—President Hoover was represented as having sought to bring members of the house ways and means committee and representatives of Cuban sugar interests together during consideration of the committee of the pending tariff bill, in a letter introduced today into the record of the senate lobby committee.

Another letter named General Enoch Crowder, former ambassador to Cuba who favors a low sugar duty, as having prepared a memorandum on limiting sugar imports from the Philippines, and as having learned "that the plans of the general staff provide that in case of war any attempt to keep a traffic lane open between the Philippines and the United States would be promptly abandoned."

Both communications were written by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba company which deals in Cuban sugar, who was testifying when they were presented. The first purported that the president had instructed Walter Newton, one of his secretaries, to establish the contacts. It was written last April to Mason B. Starring, of New York, president of the California and Pittsburgh Utilities Corporation, and was taken from Lakin's files by a lobby committee investigator.

Lakin expressed the belief that nothing had been done in the matter of the contacts. This letter read in part:

"Several members of the committee have appealed to President Hoover and he has instructed his secretary, Mr. Newton, to establish a contact between the committee and ourselves."

"I understand that some suggestion of this came from individual members of the committee. We are inclined to be a little doubtful about this step but in the end world, of course, have to do what President Hoover desires, especially as he seems to be genuinely interested in our cause."

Lakin, who was the only witness at today's hearing, said he thought the reference was to negotiations for a sliding scale which was suggested as a means of solving the problem of what duty to place on sugar in the tariff bill.

"That is to say," Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, put in, "that Mr. Newton was to bring you and some members of the committee into contact with each other, so that you could discuss the sliding scale with them. Is that the idea?"

"Well, I am confused about it," Lakin replied. "I can't carry that language."

"Well, it is your own language," Walsh commented.

"But it was written a long time ago."

"It is the same matter you are interested in right now," Walsh said.

ALGONQUIN RAMS S. S. FORT VICTORIA DURING HEAVY FOG

280 Passengers Are Taken From Sinking Liner and Carried Ashore by Pilot Boats.

LARGE HOLE IN BOW OF OTHER STEAMER

Details of Crash Meager. Both Ships Proceeding Cautiously Because of Fog, Say Commanders.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Rammed by another vessel at the fog-blanketed entrance to New York harbor, an ocean liner bound for Bermuda sank tonight but before all her passengers and crew had been taken off without loss of life.

With 280 passengers aboard, the Furness-Bermuda liner Fort Victoria was feeling her way out to sea in a blinding haze late today when she was struck a powerful blow by the liner Algonquin, bound for Galveston, by way of Miami, with 180 passengers. The crash occurred near Ambrose lightship.

Instantly the dread distress call of the sea—the S. O. S.—was sounded and ships scurried to aid the Fort Victoria.

A series of radio messages then told how the passengers were quickly taken from the Fort Victoria and placed aboard pilot and tug boats. Into these boats, too, went all of the members of the crew except the captain and six men, who decided to stand by their ship as long as possible.

For several hours conflicting reports of the Fort Victoria's condition came out of the fog by radio. All reports agreed that she was listing rather badly.

Then, shortly before 9 p. m., the coast guard radio station here intercepted a radio message from Captain A. R. Francis, of the Fort Victoria, who was at that time apparently aboard the tug Columbine.

"Fort Victoria sank at 7:30 p. m. Everybody saved. Passengers on way to Pier 59, New York," the message said.

Another radio message, picked up by police headquarters, said that the six members of the crew who had lingered aboard the vessel were safe, apparently aboard the same tug as the captain.

Before the vessel sank the boats bearing passengers had started their tortuous journey through the haze back to land. The pilot boat Sandy Hook landed the first contingent of passengers, 144 in all, at Staten Island. Other boats bearing the rest of the persons taken from the stricken vessel headed for piers in the North River.

The Algonquin, which is a Clyde line vessel, anchored in Ambrose channel and with all her passengers and crew aboard. The vessel was reported damaged, but apparently was in no danger. Observers ashore said the

VARE PLANS REST FROM ALL POLITICS

Pennsylvanian Advised by Physician Not To Run for Senate.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—(AP)—William S. Vare, for many years leader of the Philadelphia republican organization, is tired of politics and wants a complete rest, according to his physician, Dr. Ellwood R. Kirby.

Dr. Kirby said that because of Vare's health he would advise him not to become a candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator in the May primaries. He said that unless an unforeseen political situation developed he felt certain Vare would withdraw from the contest.

After his rejection by the senate on the grounds of excessive campaign expenditures during the 1926 primary and the appointment to the vacancy of Joseph R. Grundy, Vare announced he was "in the fight to the finish" and that he would be a candidate against Grundy "or anyone else."

Members of the Vare family were reported to be in full accord with Dr. Kirby's opinion that Vare should retire.

The republican leader has not been in good health since he was stricken with paralysis in August, 1928. A few days after he was barred by the senate he collapsed from fatigue and exhaustion and still is confined to his room at Atlantic City.

NEGRO TRUSTY FOOLS FLORIDA JAIL BREAK

DELAND, Fla., Dec. 18.—(AP)—An attempted jail break here last night failed when a negro trusty, who was in the main corridor and reported to Chief Deputy J. E. Adney, in charge of the jail, investigated, Adney found the prisoners had used an iron bar from the shower to spring the door to the cell room, gained access to the outside corridor and had succeeded in cutting away two bars from a window. Saws used in cutting the window bars were taken into the jail by Harry Williams, a prisoner of the state of Georgia, who was left here Saturday for safekeeping, deputies learned. Adney found that the saw blades had been concealed in the soles of Williams' shoes.

The attempted break was discovered when Adney sent a negro trusty to attend a sick prisoner. When the trusty opened the door into the main corridor he was accosted by John Wallace, who recently pleaded guilty to robbing a Daytona Beach store.

The trusty said Wallace struck at the corridor and locked the door, upon his hand and he jumped outside in solitary confinement.

AGREEMENT MAY SPEED TARIFF BILL PASSAGE

Current Guess of April 1
May Be Pessimistic Under Conditions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—As the senate approaches its Christmas recess, the date for final enactment of the tariff is discussed in some quarters in terms of April 1. This is the first time so late a date has been mentioned. Four months ago it sounded sensational to say the bill would not be enacted by the end of the special session on December 1. Nevertheless, while all previous estimates have proved too optimistic, a situation has arisen which may cause the suggestion of April 1 to be too pessimistic. There are conditions which may bring about enactment of the tariff within a comparatively short time after congress resumes following the Christmas recess. One such condition is the rather solemn understanding that after the Christmas recess the senate will work upon the tariff continuously. The understanding is in the shape of a public formal exchange of statements between Senator Borah of the progressive democratic coalition and Senator Watson, of the republicans. Such an understanding is not often in so definite a way. It is not an agreement made in the spirit of compromise between two men who have contrary wishes. It is an understanding between two leaders both of whom wish earnestly for the same objective. The making of the understanding indicates that both the groups now wish for the maximum speed.

The common wish for speed is not the only respect in which both the parties have an identical point of view about the tariff. Fully 70 out of 96 senators, one would estimate now, have roughly the same idea of what the ultimate tariff rates will probably be. There is no agreement or understanding whatever about this as there is about hurrying the bill. It just happens to be a fact that fully two-thirds of the senate thinks about the same with respect to what the ultimate rates are likely to be.

This expectation, stated very broadly, is that on agriculture the rates will be the high ones voted by the senate. As respect industry, the common expectation is that the rates will be the existing ones in the old 1922 law with a very limited number of changes in a very limited number of commodities. That this will be the outcome about rates is the expected of fully two-thirds of the progressives, probably four-fifths of the democrats, and probably three-fourths of the republicans.

To say that this is the expectation does not mean that this has been the objective for which these groups have fought. Quite the contrary is the fact. What is meant is that at this stage of the fight, this outcome is seen by the fighters themselves as the probable result of the controversy. Also at this stage of the fight, this result has come to be satisfactory to most of the members of the several groups. The combatants are more than a little tired. They are in a mood when they look with no disfavor on any reasonable outcome, even though it does not give them all they started out for.

Among the progressives and democrats there is a very small minority which would be willing to fight on indefinitely for industrial rates below those in the 1922 law. These are hopelessly outnumbered, however, by those who would regard the 1922 industrial rates as an acceptable outcome of the fight. Similarly, among the republicans, there are a few who would be willing to fight on for some industrial increases over the 1922 rates. These, again, are heavily outnumbered by those who would regard retention of the 1922 rates with a few changes as a satisfactory result of the fight.

The possession of this roughly identical point of view about rates by fully two-thirds of the individual senators contains the possibility of greater speed than is now anticipated. If there were no political objections to agreements about rates, it would be possible for the parties and factions to come to an understanding on the basis here outlined. Even without any understanding, the widespread existence of this common point of view is certain to make for speed. There are in the situation conditions that conceivably could result in winding up the tariff in the senate in exceedingly short time.

What is said here is about rates only. There remains the debenture plan and the flexible provision. As to the debenture plan, that is not likely to be strongly insisted upon by the senate. As to the flexible provision, there is no room for compromise between the separate stands taken by the senate and the house. Altogether the tariff fight has reached a stage where predictions about future time consumption can reasonably turn optimistic.

TESTIMONY CONCLUDED IN TRIAL OF DEPUTIES

State Rebittal Seeks To Discredit Plea of Self-Defense.

BURNSVILLE, N. C., Dec. 18.—(AP)—A parade of rebuttal witnesses, sent across the stand by the state in an effort to refute statements by defense witnesses bearing out the defendants' plea of self-defense, brought testimony to a close today in the trial of eight sheriff's deputies charged with second degree murder of six men in a textile strike disorder at Marion on October 2.

W. L. Hicklin, a reporter for the Asheville (N. C.) Citizen, who witnessed the clash of officers and mill strikers, was the last witness called. He said he interviewed Sheriff Oscar Adkins, of Marion, after the battle and asked him what part he took in it.

Adkins told him, he said, that while the shooting was in progress he was grappling with James Jones, one of the men killed. He said he then asked Adkins what he did when he got away from Jones and quoted the sheriff as replying, "I said for God's sake, men, stop. Don't kill any more of these."

From Hicklin's testimony the state sought to infer that its contention that the officers fired needlessly upon the strikers is correct. State witnesses testified the men were shot while running from tear gas which Sheriff Adkins released after ordering strikers to move from before the gate to the Marion Manufacturing Company mill. Defense witnesses said the deputies fired first and their own lives, that first shots came from the ranks of strikers and that the firing ceased before the crowd ran.

On trial are Taylor Green, Dave Jarrett, Jim Owens, Charlie Tate, William Twigg, Robert Ward, Webb Fender and R. L. Robbins. All the defendants appeared as witnesses. The trial opened Tuesday of last week.

Hicklin was one of seven rebuttal witnesses called today. After his testimony court recessed until tonight for the beginning of arguments. The arguments in the case, sent here on a change of venue from Marion, and the charge to the jury of Judge G. V. Cowper are expected to be completed Friday morning.

Presentation of rebuttal testimony followed appearance on the stand of Greene, the last of the eight defendants to testify. He said he fired at two men, both of whom fired first at him. The deputy said his cheek was grazed by one bullet.

During the eight days the trial has lasted, more than 100 witnesses have taken the stand. The jury hearing the case is composed of nine farmers, two loggers and a carpenter.

BURKE'S EARLY ARREST
SEEN BY POLICE

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Arrest of Fred Burke was promised soon by Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney. Early tonight, however, the reputed desperado, bank robber and killer, still was at large. Roche inferred that detectives had likely to be strongly insisted upon by the Chicago police place of Burke under surveillance. The investigator also announced he had traced the ownership of two machine guns found in the Burke bungalow at St. Joseph, Mich., after Burke had killed a policeman there last Saturday.

Bullets fired from one of these guns have been identified tentatively as similar to bullets found in the bodies of seven Moran gangsters who were massacred last February in a North Clark street garage.

Roche said gun No. 2347 was purchased November 12, 1924, by Deputy Sheriff Leslie Farmer, of Marion, Ill., during disturbances there. Since then Farmer was reported to have been associated with "Egan's Rats" of St. Louis, Roche said.

Gun No. 7580 was traced to Victor Thompson, of Elgin, Ill., who was understood to have bought it through P. Vonfranz, acting as a broker. Thompson was questioned once before on the ownership of machine guns. The guns originally belonged to a detective society publishing house of Chicago.

While the search for Burke centered here, police departments all over the middle west were checking over crimes attributed to him and his associates. He was reported seen in Chicago yesterday.

Major Calvin Goddard, ballistics expert, arrived in the city today to make microscopic study of the bullets, which authorities hoped will definitely determine whether Burke took part in the North Clark street massacre. Major Goddard said the examination would require several days.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Tom Vernon, ex-cowboy, was sentenced to life imprisonment in Folsom penitentiary in superior court here today for wrecking and robbing a Southern Pacific passenger train near Saugus last November 10. He was given two sentences of life; one as a habitual criminal. He confessed and pleaded guilty.

Child Prodigy on Verge Of Being Ordained Minister

EDWARD ROCHE HARDY, JR., GRANTS INTERVIEW

BY H. ALLEN SMITH,
United News Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—From the time he was 5 years old until he was 16, Edward Roche Hardy, Jr., was one of our nation's bigger and better prodigies.

For instance, when he was five, the records have it, he matriculated at New York University. When he was 11, he passed the Harvard entrance examination. At the age of 12 he entered Columbia University. At 14, he won the Phi Beta Kappa key. At the ripe old age of 15 he was awarded an A. B. degree, and a year later he received his A. M. degree.

And now, at the age of 21, he is on the verge of becoming a preacher. He will be ordained a deacon of the Protestant Episcopal church Saturday. Robed in a long, black cape, Hardy received a United News correspondent in his room at the General Theological seminary today. Physically, he is towering. His hair and eyes are as dark as a Pittsburgh twilight. His mid-section would look grand on the Napoleonic postures, and philosophically, his mouth is at least three inches wide.

The interview lasted 45 minutes and, during that time, Hardy looked at his wrist watch approximately 90 times, or once every 30 seconds. He stood, sat, laid down on a couch, walked around the room, assumed Napoleonic postures, gazed philosophically into space, crossed his legs, sneezed, giggled, laughed and, least of all, talked.

But hurling questions at Edward Roche Hardy, Jr., is something like throwing ripe tomatoes at the Roosevelt dam. Except that the Roosevelt dam wouldn't fret about it.

"Are you a fundamentalist or a modernist?" he was asked.

"I knew that was coming," he answered, and that was all he would say on that subject.

"Do you believe the whale swallowed Jonah?" came the next.

A big grin and silence.

And that Noah had himself an ark.

"As a matter of fact," he interrupted, "we were discussing that very thing right here in the seminary a few days ago. It is my opinion that our seminary represents the Episcopal church and those who engaged in the discussion seemed to think it strange that such beliefs are still prevalent out in the broader reaches of our land. Does that answer the question?"

Hardy revealed that during his long years of schooling, he has specialized in history and religion. Asked if he believes religion has had a demoralizing effect on history, he replied: "Sometimes it has and sometimes religion has been a great moralizing force."

The interview ended by Hardy suggesting that he write down a statement. Here it is:

"The most important thing in life for the individual is a sense of worth whiteness in what he is doing and the two chief interests which I have happily found myself in are history and the church, both of which are means of giving me that feeling, and the chief indictment of society at present to me is that there are so many jobs which it must be rather hard for people to be enthusiastic about."

Hardy modestly discounted his reputation as a child prodigy.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "the papers say, truthfully enough, that I matriculated at New York University when I was five. But I merely went up there to do some gardening. My studies consisted in planting radishes."

FREIGHTER CAPTAIN
BLAMES HIGH WIND FOR LOSS OF CRAFT

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Captain Erick Strandquist, of the freighter Skagway, which went aground and was damaged by fire last Monday near Cape Flattery, told steamboat inspectors here today that a strong east wind was to blame for his inability to reach a haven.

The inspectors are conducting an inquiry into the mishap which resulted in loss of the ship. All persons aboard, including a crew of 26, were rescued.

Captain Strandquist said when he learned the ship was afire, he steered for the shelter of the high cliffs toward Cape Flattery because the fire could not be fought successfully in mid-stream. He said the ship had no radio. The master of the freighter was the only one who had testified at the hearing today.

FRENCH WAR DEBT RATIFICATION BILL SIGNED BY HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(AP)—The congressional resolution ratifying the French war debt of $4,225,000,000 to the United States was signed today by President Hoover.

This completes the negotiation for return of all of the foreign obligations to this country incurred during the war except the debt of Russia. The French arrangement provides for payments over a period of 62 years.

An "emergency appropriation of $1,290,000 to carry on eradication of the Mediterranean fruit fly was passed by both houses of congress today and sent to the president for his approval.

The money would be available until June 30, 1930, and the secretary of agriculture is given the discretionary authority to make no expenditures until sums "adequate to state co-operation" have been appropriated.

BOX OF DYNAMITE FOUND ON STREET BY COUNTY OFFICER

A near catastrophe was averted early Wednesday afternoon when a box containing several sticks of dynamite was removed from the middle of the street intersection at Stewart avenue and Glenn street, by County Policeman Arthur Atkinson. Officer Atkinson was on his way home when his attention was attracted by a box, evidently dropped from a truck. He stopped to remove the obstruction from the street and to his amazement found that it contained dynamite. The end of the container was torn open and the sticks of the explosive exposed to view. A serious accident could have been caused had an automobile struck the box at an average rate of speed, the policeman opined.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Consideration of the King resolution proposing a senate investigation into the credit situation and the stock exchanges was postponed today by the senate banking committee until after the Christmas recess.

CASE AGAINST CARVER DROPPED BY ATTORNEY

Constable Indicted With Calles Won't Be Prosecuted.

LAREDO, Texas, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Unsuccessful in his efforts to prosecute former President Calles of Mexico on charges of implication in the murder of a Mexican general here in 1922, District Attorney John A. Valls today dismissed a similar murder charge against Duke Carver, San Antonio constable.

Meanwhile hopes of Laredo businessmen for a speedy settlement of differences with Mexico, which resulted in a boycott of this major border port, were jolted by fresh evidence of Mexico's resentment against Valls' attempt to arrest Calles.

Merchants found their Christmas trade dealt a severe blow today by a ruling that residents across the border might no longer do their shopping in Webb county and take articles back into Mexico duty free. Closing of the Laredo consulate previously had shut off shipments of goods cleared through the Laredo customs house.

In dismissing the murder charge against Carver, District Attorney Valls said that since the state department had prevented the arrest of Calles when he passed through Laredo several days ago he did not intend to prosecute "American citizens jointly charged with Calles, who are not able to secure diplomatic immunity from their government."

"American citizenship will never be a handicap in my district," Valls said.

EUGENIA BANKHEAD SECURES LICENSE TO MARRY AGAIN

RENO, Nev., Dec. 18.—(AP)—A marriage license was obtained here today by Eugenia Bankhead Hoyt, daughter of Congressman Bankhead, of Alabama, and Lawson Butt, who gave his address as Honolulu.

Mrs. Hoyt, who obtained the license under the name of Jeanne B. Hoyt, was granted a divorce recently from Morton M. Hoyt.

Butt is a freshman student at the University of Nevada and is the son of Mrs. L. M. Butt, of Santa Monica, Cal. The couple intended to go to Honolulu.

STATE HIGHWAY OFFICES TO CLOSE CHRISTMAS WEEK

The office of the state highway department, both at the capitol and at East Point, will close during Christmas week, it was announced Wednesday by Colonel Sam Tate, director, following a meeting of the highway board.

The board was engaged Wednesday in routine affairs. Only one delegation, headed by Senator W. V. Walker, of Jonesboro, requesting the paving of another road from Atlanta to Jonesboro, was heard.

The board will sit Thursday morning and possibly Friday, clearing its calendar preparatory to the installation of W. C. Vereen as a member of the board.

Board Will Hold Private Session On Girls' Absence

Session Is Closely Guarded and Names of Witnesses Withheld.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 18.—(AP)—The public will be barred when the Duval county board of public instruction meets behind closed doors tomorrow in an effort to fix responsibility for the selection of 27 Andrew Jackson High school girls to greet the Oregon team from the Terminal station to a hotel where the westerners stopped over here while en route to Miami for an intercollegiate gridiron classic with the University of Miami.

The girls acted as escorts for the Oregon team from the Terminal station to a hotel where the westerners stopped over here while en route to Miami for an intercollegiate gridiron classic with the University of Miami. Newspapers also will be barred from the session, according to F. C. Browning, chairman of the board, who launched an investigation into the affair after, he said, he had received numerous complaints.

Professor F. S. Wetzel, principal of the high school; Mrs. Ray Dickson, his secretary, and Miss Lucy Hoyt, dean of girls, have been summoned to appear before the board tomorrow for questioning. Browning also said that any other persons desiring to be heard would be permitted to appear before the board.

When the girls arrived at the station they found that the train bearing the Oregonians here was late and they missed several classes. Next day, however, they brought written excuses to school from their parents.

Mrs. P. C. Jones, one of the chaperons who went to the station with the girls, said she had talked with all but two of the girls' mothers and that they approved of the affair.

D. P. Fincannon, president of the Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce, said it was the idea of the chamber to have the girls greet the team and that the organization would share in the blame.

Browning, however, said that no school officials had granted permission for the girls to be absent from their classes and that he intended to make a thorough investigation to learn why the girls were selected to go to the station and who issued the orders.

GRAND JURY RENEWS CITY HALL GRAFT QUIZ

Session Is Closely Guarded and Names of Witnesses Withheld.

Closely guarded and the names of witnesses appearing before it secreted to the utmost the Fulton county grand jury in special session Wednesday renewed its investigation of alleged city hall graft. Another session is to be held today.

He has been the case at the last two previous sessions at which conditions at the city hall were investigated, the doors leading to the grand jury room were guarded Wednesday and the corridors patrolled by sheriff's deputies and investigators on the staff of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin. Mr. Boykin's inner offices were locked during the day and a number of the witnesses waited there until summoned to the grand jury room.

The session lasted nearly four hours. At the conclusion of Wednesday's meeting, Solicitor-General Boykin reiterated that he would have nothing for publication on the investigation until it has been completed.

"Anything we could give out now would be exceedingly detrimental to the purpose of the probe," Mr. Boykin said. When the investigation is completed we will give out all the facts. Nothing will be withheld from the public. We are keeping the activities of the grand jury secret now because our success depends entirely on secrecy."

51 MEETINGS BOOKED FOR ATLANTA IN 1930

20,000 Visitors Expected To Attend Conventions During Year.

Indication that the coming year will be marked by activity in assembly of large numbers of delegates and visitors here for conventions was seen in announcement Wednesday that 51 conventions for 1930 already have been booked by the Atlanta Convention and Tourist Bureau.

It is estimated that the sessions listed thus far will bring approximately 20,000 visitors to the city for periods varying from two to five days. Many of the organizations which have made arrangements to hold their 1930 conventions in this city are national in scope.

The four largest national conventions listed are the American Chemical Society, the National Coca-Cola Bottlers Association, the National Furriers' Association and the American Society of Refrigeration Engineers.

The National Coca-Cola Bottlers Association will meet at the Shrine Mosque the third week in March and more than 1,500 delegates from all over the country will be in attendance. Details are being worked out by C. V. Rainwater, secretary, of Atlanta.

The American Chemical Society will meet at the Biltmore hotel April 8-12. Around 2,000 members are expected to attend. Local committees working out details for the meeting are as follows: T. C. Law, chairman; W. P. Heath, secretary of the general committee. Other committees with their chairmen are: publicity, Paul Seydel; industry, C. A. Butt; council, L. B. Lockhart; transportation, J. S. Brodson; housing, A. M. Faele; entertainment, J. S. Guy; registration, J. I. Daniels; printing, W. C. Dumas; golf, J. C. Burton.

The American Society of Refrigeration Engineers will meet here in May. C. T. Walker is chairman of the local committee. Details are to be worked out later.

In October the National Furriers' Association will hold a three-day meeting in Atlanta. Headquarters for the meetings and large exhibit, and the exact dates will be decided on at a meeting of the executive committee early in the new year. Frank B. Lowndes of this city is secretary of the Georgia Funeral Directors Association which will act as host to the national body.

SEARCH FOR LOST STEAMER SKIPPER BEGUN IN HAVANA

HAVANA, Dec. 18.—(P)—Investigations are under way in an effort to solve the mystery of the disappearance of Captain G. W. Gower, of the Munson line steamer Bellasco while that vessel was proceeding from Havana to Cardenas.

The Bellasco left Havana Monday with Cardenas as its destination to take on a load of sugar and on her arrival at the latter port the chief officer, H. M. Mitchell, reported the disappearance of the captain.

The matter was taken up by the port authorities of Cardenas and the British consul at that port.

Senate Will Vote To Refer Nomination Of Richard Hopkins

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—The senate today agreed to vote tomorrow before noon on the motion to refer the nomination of Richard J. Hopkins to be federal judge for the district of Kansas back to the judiciary committee for reconsideration.

Protesting that the complaints made against Hopkins during the debate were "old stuff," Senator Allen, republican, Kansas, strongly urged confirmation of the nominee but he said if the heads of the judiciary committee demanded reconsideration he would not stand in the way.

Chairman Norris, of the committee, expressed the view that some consideration should be given to the charges raised against Hopkins. In the absence of Chairman Borah, of the subcommittee which inquired into the nominee, Norris withheld a demand that the nomination be sent back to committee.

Senator Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, moved recrimination to committee and the senate laid aside the case late today for a vote early tomorrow.

SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS RULES MASONIC CLUB

Shepard Bryan, in Principal Address, Urges Service to Others.

The spirit of Christmas prevailed in the program given in observance of Ladies' Day at the Masonic Club luncheon Wednesday at the Piedmont hotel.

Good will toward all mankind and service to others were the outstanding thoughts of the principal address, which was delivered by Shepard Bryan. Mr. Bryan drew an impressive comparison between the teachings of Christianity and other religions with Masonry, declaring the underlying principles fundamentally were the same.

Raymond Daniel, a past grand master of the grand lodge of Georgia, who was introduced as "a real Mason," spoke briefly on "The Spirit of Christmas," which he chose to term "love." Mr. Daniel expressed the wish that the spirit which exists at the Christmas season might be extended to prevail throughout the year.

The Rev. W. W. Memminger, as chaplain of the club, extended to all its members greetings of the season, and expressed appreciation to Mr. Bryan for his impressive message.

Completing his term as president of the club, B. C. Broyles expressed his appreciation to the members for the cooperation he had received in all his undertakings, and pledged his continued service to the organization.

Dr. Claude N. Hughes, who is in charge of the club's work at the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, told briefly of the good that has been accomplished at the institution and how it was appreciated.

An enjoyable entertainment program was given, vocal selections being given by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jennings, accompanied at the piano by Roy Petty. Herbert Porter and Julian V. Boehm were in charge of the program.

MRS. TALIAFERRO FUNERAL SERVICES HELD IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Ga., Dec. 18.—(P)—Mrs. Charles F. Taliaferro, prominent Columbus woman, died at her home last night from pneumonia. She had been ill only a few days.

Mrs. Taliaferro was 62 years old and a native of Fairburn, Ga., but had lived in Columbus 42 years.

Surviving her are three daughters, Mrs. E. C. Hadley, Columbus; Mrs. Chester B. Hadley, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Mrs. T. J. McGee, Columbus; two sons, Captain R. H. Taliaferro, Thomasville, Ga., and Charles F. Taliaferro III, Atlanta, and one sister, Mrs. Lula Bradbury, Jacksonville, Fla.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon.

5 ARE DROWNED WHEN AUTO FALLS OFF FERRY BOAT

AMBASSADOR EDGE ASSUMES DUTIES AT FRENCH CAPITAL

PARIS, Dec. 18.—(P)—Walter E. Edge, newly-appointed American ambassador to France, presented his letters of credence to President Doumergue at a simple ceremony in the Elysee palace this afternoon.

At the same time the ambassador presented the members of his official family to the French government.

In his address to the French president Ambassador Edge recalled the long friendship between France and the United States and said:

"I shall make it my duty to deserve the confidence and friendship of the French people, having in mind the high place held by my distinguished friend and predecessor, Myron T. Herrick. I share his deep feeling for France, a feeling wrought into American patriotism by the timely aid of France at the moment of the origin of our nation."

FLORIDA JUSTICE PLEADS NOT GUILTY OF GRAFT CHARGES

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 18.—(P)—Warren L. Newcomb, justice of the peace of Dade county, today entered plea of not guilty to charges of malpractice, after selection of a jury to hear the case had occupied most of the court session.

Newcomb is charged with accepting money for protection of gamblers and threatening to accuse J. K. Fink, Miami, of operating a gambling house, for the purpose of extorting money. Newcomb's plea was entered after the charges, contained in six counts, had been read.

Pepperell Dividend.
BOSTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—Directors of the Pepperell Manufacturing Company today voted a quarterly dividend of $2 a share to all shareholders on record as of December 18, 1929, payable January 2, 1930. Dividends will be paid quarterly hereafter. For 75 years the company had paid its dividends semi-annually. The company operates mills in Biddeford, and Lewiston, Maine, Fall River, Mass., Opelika, Ala., and Lindale, Ga.

FARM AID FOR SOUTH STUDIED BY CONGRESS

Larsen Asks $50,000,000 Loan Fund for South-Eastern Farmers.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(Special.)—Encouraged by the results achieved under the $6,000,000 fund, which congress authorized last year for the use of farmers of the southeastern states in financing purchases of seed and fertilizers, Representative W. W. Larsen, of Georgia, today laid before the lower house a more comprehensive bill on the same subject, providing for a similar fund of $50,000,000 which would be available to farmers throughout the country.

WENT WEST IN A COVERED WAGON FIFTY YEARS AGO

Would Have Given Everything She Possessed "For the Wonderful Health Sargon Has Given Me."

"I came to Spokane in a covered wagon over fifty years ago, and I've seen the time I would have given everything I possessed to have the splendid health this new Sargon brought me!"

MRS. MARY HENNINGSEN.

"For twenty long years I suffered with stomach trouble and chronic constipation. The simplest foods would sometimes cause terrible pains in my stomach and side. My liver was sluggish and I was continually having to dose myself with strong laxatives on account of constipation. A good night's sleep was entirely out of the question and I had a tired, worn-out feeling nearly all the time. Finally I became so weak and rundown I was scarcely able to get around and was afraid to try to go out alone. I spent lots of money on different medicines and treatments but I didn't get any better."

"I never in my life saw anything like this wonderful Sargon! The way it strengthened me right from the start was simply remarkable! Soon I was able to eat anything I wanted to, without the slightest trouble from my stomach or side. My sleep is sound and restful now and I never have that tired, worn-out feeling any more. I'm just brimful of strength and energy and now go anywhere I want to, all by myself."

"As soon as the Sargon Pills started to act on my liver they gave me lasting relief from constipation and I never have to take a laxative any more."

"It's really a pleasure for me to recommend Sargon and if others will profit by my experience they'll lose no time in starting this wonderful treatment."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Mary Henningsen, 1625 West 5th Ave., Spokane, Wash.

Sargon may be obtained at all Jacobs' Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

PRICE $69.50 AT THE FACTORY

While the house was receiving the Larsen bill, the senate agricultural committee voted to issue a favorable report on the resolution by Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, providing for a limited continuation of the relief previously granted farmers of the southeastern states. Under the terms of the resolution a loan fund of $2,000,000 would be made available to farmers of Georgia, Florida and the Carolinas for financing spring crop operations who can show that they suffered material damage from recent storm conditions.

Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, assisted the Carolina senator in preparing the resolution and appeared before the agricultural committee today to urge its favorable consideration. Several other bills of similar scope have been introduced in both houses by members from the states affected.

The bill by Representative Larsen differs in its administration provisions from the original $6,000,000 southeastern fund in that the proposed $50,000,000 would be made available from the revolving fund already set up for operations of the federal farm board. Officials of the board would be directed to make loans to farm organizations for purchase of seed, fertilizer, feed and fuel under such terms as the board may require. A special appropriation was approved in setting up the original fund, which was administered by the department of agriculture.

While the $50,000,000 fund is proposed as a relief measure for 1930 crop operations, the Georgia congressman indicated that he would ask for its continuance as a permanent policy of the government if it is approved by congress.

Reporter's Auto Balks as Spark Plugs Disappear

It had been a quiet, uneventful day. Not a single worthwhile murder or suicide.

Even the daily press-room "bridge game" had begun to lag—and scribes for the afternoon newspapers Wednesday were ready to call it a day and leave police headquarters.

The station lieutenant accorded a feeble good night; the journey home was about to start when a clanging of the call gong disturbed the stillness.

"There's been a murder at Piedmont and Ponce de Leon," barked the officer in charge, as an emergency car with screaming siren zoomed from the driveway.

It was past last edition time, but nevertheless Edwin Lanier Gilmore, alert Journal crime chronicler, jumped under the wheel of his antiquated Frantically and repeatedly the starter was tried—but with no response. It couldn't even be hand-cranked.

"Visions of opposition streamers" glared before the reporter as he tore the hood cover from the auto and peered at the motor. Nothing wrong, apparently—except for the fact that four spark plugs were missing—stolen—and right in front of the police station. He was sunk—unless the call was a fake.

Such being the case, Mr. Gilmore is said to have authorized a reward for the recovery of the missing plugs and the apprehension of the thief. The "murder" call turned out to be greatly exaggerated.

Federal Position In Mississippi Goes To Former Governor

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 18.—(AP)—The United States senate today confirmed the appointment of George L. Sheldon, former governor of Nebraska, as collector of internal revenue for Mississippi, according to information received here from Washington. He succeeds Major George L. Donald, democrat, who has held the office since its creation during the Wilson administration.

A lengthy controversy within the state republican ranks ends with the confirmation of Mr. Sheldon, who recently was called to Washington as a result of the discord which had risen between party factions in the state.

Senator Harrison was reported to have been authorized today to report the nomination of Mr. Sheldon favorably to the senate, which was followed by the senate confirmation.

MRS. I. SPRINGER, 70, PASSES AT SPARTA

Body Will Be Brought to Atlanta Today for Funeral Services.

SPARTA, Ga., Dec. 18.—(Special.) Mrs. I. Springer, 70, formerly of Atlanta, died at her home here today after an illness of several months.

The body will be carried to Atlanta today for funeral services.

MRS. I. SPRINGER.

Atlanta tomorrow where funeral services will be conducted from the chapel of Greenberg & Company, with Rabbi Harry E. Epstein officiating. Interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Springer was one of Georgia's most prominent women. She won wide recognition through her life-long activity in behalf of inmates of the federal penitentiary.

During the early part of her residence in Atlanta, Mrs. Springer took an active interest in welfare work. Working as an individual without the backing of an organization, she began a study of prison conditions and of the whole problem of social regeneration.

On numerous occasions Mrs. Springer journeyed to Washington to intercede with Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson in behalf of prisoners whose cases she had given intensive study. A number of paroles were issued from the chief executive's office as the result of her efforts.

She also took an active interest in the operation of state prison institutions.

Mrs. Springer was born in Austria and came to this country when a young girl. She lived in Atlanta for more than 50 years.

She is survived by her husband and the following nieces and nephews: Mrs. Fannie Crasnow, Mrs. Lena Poirer, Mrs. Esther Cohen, Mrs. Sarah Silverman, Mrs. Sam Zaban, Mrs. Mandle Zaban, Mrs. Harry C. Zaban, Harry Hartman and Morris Hartman, all of Atlanta; Miss Leda Spurling, of Seneca, S. C.; Mrs. Joe Zaban, of Richmond, Va.; and Nathan Springer, of Anneton, Ala.

THREE EN ROUTE TO ATLANTA HURT IN AUTO WRECK

MACON, Ga., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Three persons who were en route from Miami to Macon and Atlanta were badly bruised early this morning when a coupe in which they were riding turned over on a curve just south of Echecoon, 12 miles from here.

Claude T. Woodall, traveling salesman of Miami, was en route to Macon to visit his parents. He received a broken shoulder blade.

With Mr. Woodall were Miss Elizabeth Cason and a Mrs. Hall, said to be the wife of a physician of Miami, who were en route to Atlanta to spend Christmas with relatives. Both were severely bruised. Miss Cason and Mrs. Hall were able to leave the hospital late today.

MOTHER VERY ILL, MUNCIE, IND., YOUTH SOUGHT IN ATLANTA

Daniel C. Haynes, 17, of Muncie, Ind., is being sought in Atlanta by his anxious parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Haynes, whose home he left some weeks ago. It was thought at that time that he was going to Florida, but no word from him has reached the family and they are of the opinion that he is in Atlanta.

Young Haynes' mother has suffered a nervous breakdown since his departure and his grandfather is at the point of death, it was stated.

TECH HIGH SCHOOL JOINS NATIONWIDE PRINTING CONTEST

The printing department of Tech high school is one of a large number of schools in cities of the United States which will take part in a nationwide project sponsored by the National Education Association to improve the quality of school printing and increase appreciation of typography as a fine art.

For three years the N. E. A. has invited printing departments of high schools to print a poster, the copy for which is furnished by the association, and which aims at some educational ideal. The selection for this year entitled "The Home and the Virtues," was prepared by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Last year posters were submitted from 86 schools in 56 cities. Entrance of Tech High into the project is under direction of Ed L. Sutton, printing instructor, and W. O. Cheney, principal.

SNOOK EXECUTION AWAITS DECISION OF SUPREME COURT

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Failure of the Ohio supreme court today to pass on two motions for review of the case of Dr. James H. Snook, deposed Ohio State University professor, and slayer of Theora Hix, will not result Friday in his execution, it was said by court officials today.

Although the stay of execution granted by the court ends Friday, the petition in error as of right filed by Dr. Snook's attorneys will automatically stay the execution, it was said.

Under a precedent the stay of execution continues until the case until the court passes on the petition in error as of right.

U. S. WON'T INTERFERE WITH GEORGIA CANNERS

Agriculture Head Says Mineral Oil in Pimento Canning Is Satisfactory.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS, WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—After a conference today with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Representative Samuel Rutherford, of Georgia, announced that the department of agriculture has assured him pimento canning plants of the state using mineral oils in their peeling operations might go ahead with their 1930 contracts without fear of interference on the part of government officials.

Some question had previously been raised by department agents as to the acceptability of employing mineral oil in peeling processes and the fear had been expressed that plants using this process, as against the method of roasting, might be forced to suspend operations. Representative Rutherford went to the department in company with Senator W. J. Harris and Senator Walter F. Georgia, of Georgia, and explained the situation in the state. It was pointed out to the department head that canners would be reluctant to go ahead with their contracts with farmers for raising pimentos so long as any doubt existed as to the right to employ the oil peeling process. Mr. Rutherford explained that only a small portion of the pimento canning plants were able to use the roasting peeling process because of the necessity of using natural gas, which is not available in all sections of the state. It was shown to the department that a thorough washing process used by the plants removes practically all trace of oil, prohibited in canning operations under the pure food act.

FORMER GOVERNOR OF WYOMING DIES IN N. Y. HOTEL

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(AP)—George W. Baxter, 75, former governor of Wyoming, died today in his suite at the Hotel Weylin.

Mr. Baxter was in the midst of plans for celebrating his golden wedding anniversary, January 7, next, when he was stricken with a gastric hemorrhage. The former governor and his wife had lived at the hotel for the last nine winters, also having a summer home at Southampton, L. I. The body will be shipped to Knoxville, Tenn., tomorrow.

Burglar Identified. FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 18.—(AP)—A slain burglar, who had given his name as "Raymond Barker" and his home as Asheville, N. C., was identified here today by his brother and by fingerprints as Claude Ray Parker, 23, of Ballinger, Texas. He visited in Asheville recently.

Georgia Association Planning Conference on Land Problem

The Georgia Association is arranging a three-day conference for January 7-9 at the Ansley hotel to discuss Georgia's land problem and practical methods of its solution. The Southeastern Real Estate, Loan and Property Men's Association, with headquarters in Atlanta and composed of 20 farm mortgage companies, including life insurance companies and land banks which have come into possession of many Georgia farms through foreclosure, is actively co-operating in the preparation of the program.

Nationally known students of this problem, which has become acute throughout the United States, have been invited to attend this conference and explain methods that are being applied to the problem in other sections. Plans for financing farmers who need dairy cows and poultry and hogs in order to make farm profits possible, but who cannot obtain money under present conditions either at the local bank or through the federal intermediate credit bank, also will be presented at the conference. In addition to these subjects, specific plans will be presented for enlarging the scope of the work of the Georgia Association as a state chamber of commerce, especially along lines of economic research that will enable it to bring more farm factories or farm processing plants to the smaller towns and weaker counties of the state, and particularly to aid local chambers of commerce and farm organizations, through live stock finance associations, to set up more cow-hog-hen farm units. Advertising for experienced live stock farmers in other sections and for investors in farm processing plants, and organizing for the great bi-centennial celebration of Georgia's settlement, which is under the direction of Dr. Willis A. Sutton, of Atlanta, and other Georgia educators, are other important parts of the program to be presented.

Dr. W. J. Spillman, director of the bureau of land economics of the United States department of agriculture; E. H. Taylor, associate editor of the Country Gentleman, two of the nation's foremost students of the land problem, have been invited to the Georgia conference, and Dr. Burdette G. Lewis, president of the Foremost Dairy Products, Inc., and an internationally-known economist, has been invited to discuss financing of dairy cows and dairy farm equipment and the profitable marketing of dairy products.

Annual Georgia Press Institute Begins Feb. 20

The third annual Georgia Press Institute will be held at Emory University February 20-21. It was announced Wednesday by the institute committee of the Georgia Press Association. The main theme of it will be "The Country Weekly."

Professor Charles Laurel Allen, of Urbana, Ill., a leading expert in the field of country journalism, has accepted an invitation to conduct the "clinics" on the weekly newspaper, which will be one of the outstanding features of the institute. Professor Allen is the author of "County Journalism" and "The Journalist's Manual of Printing."

Every weekly paper in the state has been invited to send its entire staff to attend the institute and the meeting is so planned that it will not interfere with the release date of any paper. The institute committee in charge of the occasion is composed of: Mark Kithridge, Maroon Telegraph, chairman; Frances Clarke, Atlanta Constitution; J. B. Nevin, Atlanta Georgian; John Paschall, Atlanta Journal; Professor John Drewery, University of Georgia; and Louis L. Morris, president of the Georgia Press Association.

Hoover Proposals Will Be Discussed By Building Owners

Plans and activities for the coming year of the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers, as suggested at the recent industrial conference called by President Hoover, will be discussed at the meeting of the local organization at the Blue Boar cafeteria at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon by C. F. Palmer, of Palmer, Inc. Mr. Palmer attended the recent gathering in Washington as vice president of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

It is said that the Atlanta group will be the first local branch of the national body to receive an official first-hand account of President Hoover's conference. Mr. Palmer is a member of the executive committee of the Atlanta association, and was one of the few southern men who were called to Washington by the president.

Officers of the Atlanta group are C. F. Wilkinson, president; S. S. Gibbs, vice president; W. T. Weekley, treasurer, and Fred Shaefer, secretary. The executive committee is composed of Will R. Beck, H. L. Fincher, John W. Grant, Jr., C. F. Palmer, J. H. Tigner, J. P. Whitmore and the officers.

TRUE TONE

Only through Brunswick instruments can you hear the magnificent "True Tone" of the music comprising radio entertainment. For Brunswick has applied to the building of radio certain exclusive principles, gained from the making of fine musical instruments for two decades. Every dealer can prove the True Tone of the Brunswick through the unique Brunswick comparative Test for Tone.

NEW MODELS

Today Brunswick introduces three new models. They are built to 1930 specifications, and so include the very newest, the very latest, innovations of radio. Their performance is a revelation. And because Brunswick has made fine furniture for over eighty-five years, their cabinets are incomparably beautiful. Yet the prices are lower than you are being asked to pay for obsolete, out-of-date instruments.

4 SCREEN GRID TUBES

"Screen Grid" tubes improve radio performance even more than did the dynamic speaker. But exhaustive research has proved that FOUR "Screen Grid" tubes are necessary to derive the fullest efficiency from the "Screen Grid" circuit—to get power beyond any possible need—to have daytime reception equal that of the night—to insure perfect clarity of tone.

MISSIONARY LEADER DIES AT FOREST HILLS

The Rev. Kinsolving, Episcopal Representative in Brazil, Passes.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Dec. 18. (P)—Rev. Lucien Lee Kinsolving, co-founder and bishop of the Protestant Episcopal missionary see of Southern Brazil, died of heart disease at Forest Hills inn today. He was 67 years old.

Bishop Kinsolving, a cousin of General Robert E. Lee, commander of the Confederate army during the Civil War, and direct descendant of Richard Henry Lee and Thomas Ludwell Lee, once was dean of convocation, member of the standing committee and missionary of the Protestant Episcopal church in the state of Rio Grande.

With Rev. James Morris, rector of the Epiphany church, Washington, D. C., he founded the missionary see of Southern Brazil in 1880 and was elected missionary bishop of the Brazilian Episcopal church in 1898. He was consecrated a year later and elected missionary bishop of Southern Brazil in 1907. He made his headquarters at Caxias.

He was forced to become inactive by ill health three years ago and returned to the United States. Bishop William M. Thomas, of Baltimore, Md., was appointed coadjutor and acting bishop at Caxias.

Bishop Kinsolving, a native of Middleburg, Va., was educated in the Episcopal high school, Alexandria, Va.; the University of Virginia and the Theological Seminary of Virginia at Alexandria. The University of Pennsylvania conferred on him the degrees of doctor of laws and doctor of sacred theology. He was national honorary president of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Surviving are his widow, the former Alice Brown, of Mount Holly, N. J., whom he married in 1892; two sons, Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving II, chaplain of the United States Military academy, West Point, N. Y.; Charles M. Kinsolving, New York banker; a daughter, Miss Lucie C. Kinsolving, New York, and two brothers, the Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving, rector of St. Paul's church, Baltimore, and the Rev. Wythe Lee Kinsolving, of Richmond, Va. Another brother was Bishop George Herbert Kinsolving, of Texas, who died in Austin two years ago.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Forest Hills and burial will be Friday in the cemetery of the Virginia Theological seminary at Alexandria.

MELLON "ESCAPES" WELCOMING CROWD ON VISIT TO MIAMI

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 18.—(P)—While public officials waited to welcome him and newspapermen scoured the city for traces of his party, Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, this morning retired to a "for hire" car, toured Miami and Miami Beach for nearly three hours, then quietly embarked on the yacht Vagabondia at 12:30 p. m. for a three-week cruise of the Bahamas and West Indies.

Arriving here early today aboard a private car, Mr. Mellon, his son, Paul; his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. David E. K. Bruce, and a college friend of his son's, Francis Carmody, had planned to embark at 7 a. m. on the yacht and cast off immediately for the Bahamas.

Possibility that the secretary would confer with government officials in Porto Rico was seen when it was said the Vagabondia "might" make San Juan a port of call.

Mr. Mellon declined to comment on this, saying he was taking a pleasure cruise to the Bahamas, but he indicated Porto Rico was probably would be touched later in the trip.

The secretary refused to make a statement on any aspect of the financial or political situation.

The opposition party has been somewhat restive because of persistent rumors that President Borno would make material changes in the council of state which will elect the president. The opposition leaders are declaring that should the council of state be changed by the president in order to control the choice of his successor, disorders and agitation would result until the legislative chambers are reconstituted.

The opposition leaders also have expressed pleasure at the commission of investigation to be appointed by President Hoover in order that an impartial study may be made of the situation.

The prospects were bright today that all schools would be back in practical full operation by the end of the holidays, thus adding to the tranquillity of the country.

TRANS-OCEAN FLIERS WILL CONTINUE FLIGHT

Pair Who Spanned Atlantic To Use Borrowed Plane for Hop.

NATAL, Brazil, Dec. 18.—(United News).—Lieutenant Colonel Tadeo Larre Borges, of Uruguay, and Captain Leon Challe, of France, announced here tonight they expected to fly to Rio de Janeiro and Montevideo within four or five days in a plane of the aero postale lateoere company.

Thus they will make a flying entrance into cities of the South American coast which expect to honor them for their non-stop flight from Seville, Spain.

Larre Borges was brought here this afternoon from San Antonio, near which the Breguet plane crashed after crossing the Atlantic. His first act was to visit Challe, who is in a hospital here with a cut over his right eye.

Commander Djalmar Petit, director of the Aero Club of the state of Rio Grande do Norte, who brought Challe here Tuesday, conveyed Larre Borges today, thus keeping intact his record of assisting trans-Atlantic aviators. More than a year ago he performed a similar service for the Italian army fliers, Arturo Ferrari and the late Carlo Delprete, who were forced down near Touros, Brazil, after a non-stop flight from Rome.

HAITI POLITICAL SITUATION TAKES ISLAND SPOTLIGHT

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Dec. 18.—(P)—With Haiti generally quiet after the disorders of ten days ago the political phase of the April presidential election is coming to the fore. Andres Chevalier, former postmaster-general, is the first to announce his candidacy, pledging reforms and the observance of treaty obligations.

The opposition party has been somewhat restive because of persistent rumors that President Borno would make material changes in the council of state which will elect the president. The opposition leaders are declaring that should the council of state be changed by the president in order to control the choice of his successor, disorders and agitation would result until the legislative chambers are reconstituted.

The opposition leaders also have expressed pleasure at the commission of investigation to be appointed by President Hoover in order that an impartial study may be made of the situation.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR TELLS OF NATION'S AIMS

Dr. Prittwitz-Gaffron Speaks to Lotus Club in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(P)—Dr. F. W. Von Prittwitz-Gaffron, German ambassador to the United States, declared at a dinner given in his honor Tuesday night by the Lotus Club, that post-war Germany aims to make the community of interest between capital and labor "the guiding principle of its social and economic organization."

"The way to sane democracy and good relationship between the various classes," he said, "is primarily not a problem of legislation but a question of education."

"The leaders of our schools and colleges, therefore, share with the political leaders the responsibility for the future, whereas in the past emphasis was laid on the purely intellectual training. Nowadays this development of social emotion and physical qualities is considered the main object of education."

Pointing to the difficulties which beset his country at the close of the war, the ambassador continued:

"The struggle for economic recovery has proved to be the most difficult test of the character of the German people, and has had perhaps the greatest influence in forming modern Germany's mind."

"Threatened by bolshevism, deprived of commodities, demoralized by the sufferings of the war, the German people overcame the terror of the complete post-war period and set to work again."

"All classes co-operated in keeping the ship of the German state afloat and helped to steer it through the time of inflation and poverty. Although times of hardship strengthen the character of the people and perhaps develop their creative faculty, business life as such lacked that normal steadiness of development which is essential for real prosperity."

"Handicapped by the burden of reparations and the insufficient reserve of capital, German industrial life had also to improve its technical apparatus which for years had been neglected. American capital helped to put our economic machinery in working condition, just as the American example of standardization and co-ordination contributed to improve our methods."

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University and president of the Lotus Club, introduced Ambassador Von Prittwitz-Gaffron and paid tribute to the late Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister.

HOUSE COMMITTEE APPROVES INCREASE IN HIGHWAY FUNDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(P)—The house roads committee favorably reported the Dowell bill to provide for annual increase from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 in the federal highway aid fund.

The committee unanimously approved the measure after Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the public roads bureau of the agriculture department, testified that the states would be in condition to furnish the increase of $50,000,000 annually, which they would have to raise in order to share in federal aid.

The measure would be effective for the next three years beginning with the fiscal year 1931.

WAYCROSS YOUTHS, BELIEVED DEAD, RETURN TO HOMES

WAYCROSS, Ga., Dec. 18.—(Special).—Belief that the bodies of two youths, killed while they lay asleep on the railroad track near River Junction, Fla., were those of Surrell Newbern and Bill Youmans, Waycross High school boys, was dispelled today when the youths returned to their homes here.

Newbern and Youmans had been on a "hobo trip" through the west. Descriptions of the unidentified youths at River Junction tallied exactly with those of the Waycross pair.

JACQUES CARTIER AND JETTA GOUDAL TO WED IN MAY

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 18.—(United News).—Jacques Cartier, Broadway musical comedy star and screen actor, who arrived today in a visit with his parents over the holidays, confided to friends that he will wed Jetta Goudal, film star, in May.

OSCAR DE PRIEST MAKES HIS MAIDEN SPEECH IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(United News).—The house gave attention to the address of a negro today for the first time in 28 years when Representative Oscar DePriest, republican of Illinois, made his debut as the congressional spokesman of the black race.

In a five-minute prepared address, the first he has made since coming to congress last spring, DePriest urged adoption of a resolution authorizing President Hoover to appoint a commission to investigate conditions and determine future American policy in the negro republic of Haiti. The measure was later passed without a record vote.

Members streamed out of the cloak rooms as DePriest started his speech and before he had concluded attendance on the floor was larger than it has been at almost any time since the regular session started. DePriest's wife looked on from the front row of the members' gallery. Some of the negro's remarks were applauded on the republican side of the chamber but the democrats remained silent. Both sides were attentive.

"There have been so many contradictory statements on both sides of the house, it does appear to me that we should all vote to appoint this commission," DePriest began, speaking in a low but easily audible tone. "Most members of the house are not familiar with conditions in Haiti, like myself, and we all want enlightenment from a commission that will make an impartial investigation."

New Ambassador To Spain Reaches Madrid With Family
MADRID, Dec. 18.—(P)—Irwin Boyce Latta, newly-appointed American ambassador to Spain, arrived in Madrid with his family today and proceeded to the embassy residence after an informal reception at the railway station by members of the embassy.

The new ambassador made an appointment for a formal call at the foreign office at noon tomorrow and within a few days will make a formal call upon Premier Primo De Rivera. He probably will have an audience with the King of December 24.

Colman Delights Crowds In New Film at Georgia

Ronald Colman and Ann Harding, featured stars in "Condemned" on a big stage and screen bill which is delighting throngs at Keith's Georgia, where a number of Atlanta radio dealers are co-operating in a big radio show of new Brunswick models.

Capacity audiences at Keith's Georgia this week are finding an excellent stage and screen bill headlined by Ronald Colman in "Condemned" and the Brunswick Radio show, staged in the lobby of the theater.

Atlanta Brunswick dealers, Davidson-Paxon's, Ludden and Bates, Phillips and Crew, Lyon and King at King Hardware Company, Mather Bros., and the Brunswick-Balke-Coller Company branch are co-operating in sponsoring the show. Three new models including the new phonograph radio combination, are being shown.

In "Condemned," Colman is supported by Ann Harding and Louis Wolheim. It is a story of a gay Parisian thief who is sentenced to Devil's Island, the French prison camp, and who falls in love with the beautiful young wife of the warden while serving as houseboy to the official.

Supply of Liquor In City Smaller, Say Dry Agents

BY R. E. POWELL.

The rather anomalous situation of a threatened price war in bootlegging circles and the positive statement of enforcement officials that considerably less liquor is coming into Atlanta this year than 12 months ago presents a situation for the thirsty to ponder over during the Yuletide season.

Just whether or not competition will reach the point where it sends prices down below the prevailing market, ranging from $5 to $10 per gallon for corn and home-made rye and $75 to $100 per case for alleged gin, Scotch and so-called imported rye, depends largely upon sales the remainder of this week.

The balmy weather of the past 10 days has increased distilling in the mountain sections of Georgia and Tennessee and liquor has been moving into Atlanta steadily. However, prohibition agents are satisfied that it is coming in smaller loads, although it is possible there may be more of them made daily. One bootlegger, now awaiting trial, told United States Commissioner Griffith that just prior to his arrest he had made three trips a week, hauling 100 gallons each trip.

Danger, or hope, according to which side of the market you are playing, of the price war is due somewhat to more well planned buying for eggnog and holiday parties than last year when, anticipating a last-minute rush of buying at speakeasies, federal agents made about 40 successful raids.

The present situation, according to a ranking enforcement authority, does not anticipate any drive this year. Rumors which have reached the peddling gentry of the mobilization in Atlanta of 200 dry agents was described as "the bunk" Wednesday. The federal authorities are spending most of their energy in capturing the stills and leaving the hip pocket, even the gallon-size peddlers, to the police and county officers.

It may be because there are more bootleggers than Atlanta could boast a year ago, but they are not doing any land office business—so scouts for this department of the paper hear. They do not hear well enough to tell a grand jury, but they have been informed that one of the uptown "Big Boys," who maintains two or three branch establishments, is facing bankruptcy. He has lost, so it is reported, a half dozen high priced cars in the last two months.

Florida and Canada "red" liquor is expected to hit town the last of the week, the most of it for delivery to

ACTORS IN "SALUTE" DRILLED FOR SIX HARDS, LONG WEEKS

At least two years of infantry and rifle drilling were condensed into six weeks of sole-blistering and back-breaking toil for more than a score of Fox Films players during their stay in Annapolis to film scenes for "Salute," the dramatic West Point-Annapolis all talking screen story, which opens at the Fox theater Christmas Day.

William Janney, Frank Albertson and twenty other screen players portraying the roles of midshipmen were subjected to three hours' daily drilling on the United States Military Academy parade grounds under the caustic direction and criticism of William Cameron, veteran marine sergeant. At the end of six weeks Sergeant Cameron grudgingly admitted the Hollywood contingent, composed almost entirely of college athletes, "wasn't bad."

Foreign Trade Club Elects Officers, Decides To Sponsor Return Good-Will Cuban Trip

Robert Hecht Is Named President for 1930—Retiring President Hoke Sketches Club's Activities.

An address by the retiring president, election of officers for the coming year, and the adoption of a resolution to sponsor a "return" good-will tour to Cuba next March, featured the meeting of the Atlanta Foreign Trade Club Wednesday.

Robert Hecht, president of the International Corporation, was named president for the coming year, succeeding Charles F. Hoke. Other officers are: George A. Dunagin, of the United States department of agriculture, first vice president; H. E. Cunningham, of the Travelers Insurance Company, second vice president; Irving Schweppe, of the marine department of the Automobile Insurance Company, third vice president. T. G. Douglas and W. A. Dunlap are re-elected to the positions of treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Sketching the activities of the club during the past 12 months, Mr. Hoke pointed out that the organization is unique in its aim and purpose in that it is the only club of its kind in the city and section which endeavors "to bring together the various elements of business interests in foreign trade or travel." "As the country's commercial interests are so varied and of such magnitude, there is an unmistakable need for outlets in foreign markets," he declared, "offering, as it does, periods of dullness in the domestic market, which condition suggests and warrants such an organization as we have."

Service to Consulates. "Realizing Atlanta's importance as a center of foreign trade, the club has ever been alert to the importance of having consulates here representing the various foreign countries of the world, and to that end rendered service in having the German, Italian, French and Cuban consulates established in Atlanta," he continued.

Among the accomplishments of the club during the past year he listed the compiling of a handbook, "For Exporters, Importers and Tourists," containing a ready source of valuable information; sending of a representative to Savannah to assist in the formation of a similar organization there; assistance in entertaining ambassadors from France and Germany; sponsoring of the second regional foreign trade conference and the organization of the Southeastern Foreign Trade Council; participation in service here honoring Marshal Foch; sponsoring of an inland waterways meeting in connection with the Chattahoochee Valley and Gulf Association at the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; and the passage of a resolution urging a survey of the Chattahoochee river from Atlanta to Columbus with a view to securing a continuous channel suitable to the economic operation of barges.

Thanks Officers.

In closing, he said: "I wish to thank not only the officers who have so ably assisted me in carrying on the work of the club during the past year, but the chairman of the various committees and each and every individual member, all of whom have given me his hearty co-operation and support in maintaining the high standards of work, programs and entertainments that the club has undertaken during the year. In this connection I wish also to thank the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce through its officers, Mr. Barker and Mr. Alston, and the newspapers of Atlanta, which have at all times rendered us valuable assistance upon every occasion that we have called upon them, and to Harry Mitchell, of the United States department of commerce, for his constructive and valuable aid in promoting the welfare of the club."

Cold Spell Cost Autoists $90,000 Survey Reveals

The last freeze in Atlanta cost motorists of the city approximately $90,000, it was learned Wednesday from figures compiled by the Atlanta Motor Club, and warning of the approaching cold snap, due Friday of this week, is made by Charlie Cook, secretary of the club, who asks automobile owners of the city to take proper precautions in the handling of their machines.

The estimate of the loss to car owners during the freeze of November 30-December 1 is based on a survey made by the Atlanta Motor Club this week, when it was learned that a temperature of 10 degrees had been predicted for Friday morning by the weather bureau. Facts and figures were obtained from all principal garages in the city, and it was shown that carelessness in not putting non-freezing mixtures in radiators was the direct cause for the heaviest of the expense incurred by car owners.

Almost as much unnecessary expense, according to Mr. Cook, was caused by improper treatment of batteries. If batteries are in need of charging they probably will give trouble during cold snaps, he states.

In most automobiles, Mr. Cook pointed out, a gallon of non-freeze mixture is enough to obviate the danger of frozen and broken radiators.

Trenton Critics Laud Princeton Club Operetta

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—After two preliminary performances here last night and tonight the Princeton University Triangle Club left in a special train tonight on an extended tour of the east and south which will bring it to Atlanta on January 2.

The club's current operetta, "The Golden Dog," based on a Canadian legend, played to packed houses here and was warmly praised by critics. Since the new McCarter theater at Princeton, home of the Tiger dramatic organization, is not completed, the club opened here.

Tomorrow night the Princetonians will play at the Academy of Music, Philadelphia. On Christmas Eve "The Golden Dog" will be presented at the Metropolitan opera house, New York. After the New York performance the Triangle Club will travel west, playing at Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis before entering the south. The club will play at Memphis December 31 and will then cross the Mississippi to present its play at Little Rock, Ark., the following day. The next night the play will be presented at Birmingham, from where the Princetonians will journey to Atlanta.

"The Golden Dog" will be presented at the Atlanta theater January 2. Tickets are to go on sale Friday at the offices of Cooper & Cooper, Bona Allen building. A central ticket office will be opened next week.

EFFORT TO STOP GAS MAIN LAYING IN CITY PLANNED

Members of the streets committee will be called upon at their next meeting to defer action on any further permits to cut Atlanta streets for the purpose of laying gas mains to deliver natural gas "until a satisfactory adjustment in rates is made," it was announced Wednesday by Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second ward.

Declaring that the rates are excessive for the small consumer and that they are the highest charged any group of citizens in the United States for a similar service, Mr. McCutcheon said he would ask other members of the committee to join him in the fight to obtain a slash.

"The schedule of prices to be charged the small consumer as passed down by the Georgia public service commission provides that Atlanta shall pay a gross bill of $1.95 for the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas used," Mr. McCutcheon said. "This is excessive, and is the highest price paid for the commodity by any other city in the country. Council is helpless to fix charges, but it has the right to control the streets and I shall oppose any additional street cutting until the rates are adjusted and Atlanta has cheaper gas as promised when natural gas was first proposed."

Bible Class.

The Bible class of the Whiteford Avenue Baptist church will hold a business meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday night at the home of Mrs. M. McCoy, of 1450 Woodbine avenue. A social hour will follow the business session. Plans for the coming year will be made and a new name and motto selected for the class.

F. E. MAFFETT SELLS INTEREST IN AGENCY

Application Made to Change Name to Oakland-Pontiac Company.

F. E. Maffett, president of F. E. Maffett, Inc., 425 Spring street, distributor of the Oakland-Pontiac automobiles for the past two years, announced Wednesday that he had sold his entire interest in the concern. Under the sale agreement, application is being made to change the name of the corporation to Oakland-Pontiac Company, of Atlanta.

Mr. Maffett is one of the pioneers in the automobile business in Atlanta, having been the former distributor for Dodge Brothers cars in this territory. It is understood that he will probably become identified with the real estate business in Atlanta.

T. Suddeth has been elected president and general manager to fill the place of Mr. Maffett. Mr. Suddeth has been connected with the automobile industry in Birmingham and Atlanta for the past 15 years, and is well known in the trade. For several years he was manager of the Atlanta branch for General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

The business of F. E. Maffett, Inc., as distributor of Oakland-Pontiac cars, will be continued at the same location, and customers will continue to be served as heretofore by J. M. Vaughan, sales manager, and J. M. Bohler, service manager.

CITY CLUB TO MEET Major-General Peyton Will Speak Today.

Decatur Citizens Boost Movement To Light Trees

BY BEN COOPER.

Decatur continued to come in strong Wednesday with promises to light living Christmas trees. Six new Decatur lighted trees were announced. Meanwhile, Atlantans responded to the appeal to light the living trees, with the result that a number of homes will extend to passersby a greeting of Christmas joy.

Among Decatur citizens who promised Wednesday to light trees were Frances Freeborn, of Clermont avenue; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wilks, of 223 Wilton drive; Wilson Deil, of 538

BOARD TO SURVEY STATE IN SEARCH FOR COTTON PEST

The state board of entomology will co-operate with federal authorities in making a survey of the state to ascertain whether there are any pink boll worms in the cotton fields of the state.

BAPTISTS OPEN MOVE FOR ORPHANS' HOME

Board of Trustees and Steering Body Named To Direct Enterprise.

BAXLEY, Ga., Dec. 18.—(AP)—With election of a board of trustees and a steering committee, a preliminary organization has been effected here by a South Georgia Baptists to carry out plans for establishing the South Georgia Industrial Home for Orphans.

The enterprise was inaugurated as the result of a gift of 1,000 acres of land in Appling county, 10 miles southeast of Baxley, to the Baptists by E. L. Odum, of Waycross, on condition that an orphanage would be erected and maintained on the site.

In announcing donation of the tract, Mr. Odum made it clear that the project was not intended in any sense to rival the Georgia Baptist Orphan's home at Hapeville. The new home, he indicated, would be supplementally to the orphanage work of the Georgia Baptist convention.

ROYER IS NAMED HEAD OF ATLANTA EXCHANGE CLUB

John Royer was elected president of the Atlanta Exchange Club for the coming year at the weekly luncheon held Tuesday, it was announced Wednesday morning.

Harry McCowan was named first vice president; Judson Hawk, second vice president; Madison Richardson, third vice president, and Mackay Solenberger, secretary and treasurer.

Carlton Binns, retiring president of the club; J. C. Anderson and J. Rose Tucker compose the executive committee.

ATLANTA JAYCEES HARMAN, DUGGAN TO HONOR OFFICERS SPEAK AT FAIRBURN CORNERSTONE RITE

Newly-elected officers of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce will be guests of honor at the weekly meeting of the organization at the Chamber of Commerce building at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon when I. H. Woody, retiring president, will sketch the program of activities which have been carried out during 1929.

Dr. Herbert B. Kennedy will preside. Entertainment features for the occasion will include songs by Miss Ann Goodman, banjo selections by Lang Howe and several vocal numbers by Bob Forsane.

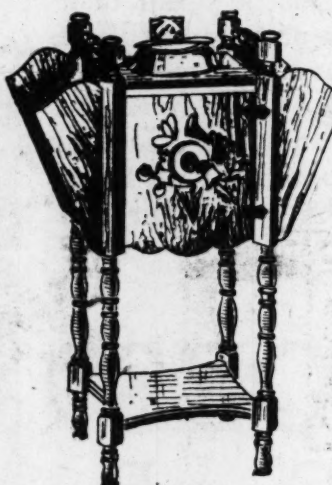

Governor L. G. Hardman and Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, were the principal speakers Wednesday morning at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Campbell County High school at Fairburn.

Dr. H. T. Bledsoe, chairman of the board of education of Fairburn, presided at the ceremonies, the program of which included several other speakers. The new school will cost $60,000. In it a faculty of 14 members will supervise the instruction of 600 students.

"TICKLETOES"

Is the Idol of Every Little Doll Mother Who Sees Her and THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION Offers Her

FREE

for Only 2 New Subscribers to the Daily and Sunday
Constitution

And, Girls, the wonderful part about this offer is, that money is not required. You don't need a single penny to get "Tickletoes." She is given for just a small task that won't be a bit hard for any of you or take but little of your time. Ask some of your grown-up friends to help you, and it won't take long at all. You'll have the two subscriptions before you know it, and then "Tickletoes" is yours absolutely free. This is positively all there is to it. Hundreds of other little girls have won her and you can, too.

"TICKLETOES" Is As Cute As Can Be

All the little girls who have seen "Tickletoes" can't resist loving her, and naturally they would love her because she is so life-like, and what little girl doesn't love a real live baby? She does all the things that every tiny baby does—sucks her thumb—clasps her hands—rolls her eyes—goes to sleep—sits up—cries—holds her bottle—and does many other darling pranks.

She is the happiest doll you ever saw, dressed elegantly in pink organdy with real stockings, cute little moccasins, rubber panties and a darling cap with lace ribbons on it. Her legs and arms are of rubber and her soft little toes and fingers are just like a real live baby's. She is unbreakable and has three different voices and is 21 inches tall—just about as long as this newspaper page.

NOTE: Only two new six-month subscriptions will be required in the city of Atlanta and nearby suburbs when the doll is delivered to the winner at the office of The Constitution. Those living outside of Atlanta and suburbs, where the doll has to be sent by parcel post or express, on account of extra expenses for packing, shipping and carrying charges, three subscriptions will be required.

Nettie Love Whitley, 299 Ferguson St., N. E., and a pupil of Moreland Avenue school, expresses her delight at winning "Tickletoes" by a happy smile that she just couldn't hold back when The Constitution presented her with "Tickletoes."

Little Mary Catherine Rainwater, 4 years old, 26 Davis circle, Atlanta, is happy to be mamma of "Tickletoes." Mary Catherine is one of the many hundreds of little girls who have taken advantage of The Constitution's offer.

BLOODWORTH HEADS VETERANS' BUREAU

Atlanta Named To Succeed
Himself—Prof. Mitchell Is Appointed Curator.

A commission was issued by Governor L. G. Hardman Wednesday to Major J. G. C. Bloodworth to succeed himself as director of the veterans' service, and Professor J. M. Mitchell, of Monroe, was elected curator of the state museum.

The reappointment of Major Bloodworth is effective January 1. He has held the office since its creation in 1926.

Major Bloodworth is a native of High Falls. He attended Boys' High school in Atlanta and the Atlanta Law school. He was a member of the A. E. F., and at the end of the war was discharged with the rank of captain. In 1924 he was made a major.

The appointment of a curator is the outgrowth of a plan announced last week by which the state departments of geology, agriculture, game and fish, and forestry and education will cooperate in maintaining a full-time curator at the state museum, which is said to be among the best in the country. Professor Mitchell has been a teacher, and has made a special study of geology.

Noted Missionary Statesman Speaks In Atlanta Tonight

C. F. Andrews, noted missionary statesman from India, will arrive in Atlanta this afternoon and will speak tonight at Georgia Tech and Spelman college.

The meeting at Tech, under the auspices of the student Y. M. C. A., will open at 7 o'clock and will be attended by the faculty and 300 members of the freshman class. At 8:15 o'clock Mr. Andrews will address a mass meeting in the chapel of Spelman College, which will be attended by hundreds of students from Spelman and Morehouse colleges, Atlanta; Clark and Morris-Brown universities; and Gannon Theological Seminary. Both meetings will be open also to the public.

Mr. Andrews, for 25 years a missionary in India, has been the close friend and adviser of Mahatma Gandhi and Rabindranath Tagore. At their request he has come to America to interpret the needs of India and to make a plea for international friendship. He has just ended a tour of England on this mission.

Henry W. Davis, vice president of the First National bank, was re-elected treasurer of the organization. B. S. Barker, executive vice president, was given a vote of confidence by the board of directors and will continue in his present capacity after eight years of service.

New directors of the organization include L. H. Beall, district manager of the Sears Roebuck Company; Milton W. Bell, cashier of the Atlanta Federal Reserve bank; William Candler, Atlanta capitalist; Robert T. Jones, Jr., lawyer and golfer of prominence; Robert Strickland, Jr., vice president of the First National bank; J. H. Woody, retiring president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who is connected with John F. Clark and Company; Ronald Ransom, vice president and trust officer of the Fulton National bank; G. C. Bowden, southern district manager of the Bell Telephone Company; S. F. Boykin, of the Coca-Cola Company, and Cator Woolford, of the Retail Credit Company.

The following retain their positions on the board: Frank L. Butler, of the Georgia Power Company; Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory University; Benjamin Elias, of the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills; George S. Harris, of the Exposition Cotton Mills; Roy Le Craw, local insurance man; Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the finance committee of city council, and John E. Smith, local automobile dealer.

Ex-officio directors, in addition to Mr. Alston, include the newly elected president and vice presidents, Mr. Barker and Mr. Davis, the treasurer. Ex-officio special directors are Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and Paul S. Etheridge, chairman of the Fulton county commission. Mrs. L. Irving Turner and J. H. Woody are listed as special directors.

Mr. Russell, the new president, has been a director of the chamber of commerce for two years and during the past year has served as first vice president. He has been president of Family Welfare Society for two years and at present also holds the position of president of the First National Mutual Savings Company and the Georgia State Building and Loan League.

'Santa Claus' At Bellas Hess Performs Tricks

Children visiting the toy department of the National Bellas Hess Company, Inc., at 37-39 Whitehall street, are getting a real thrill.

Santa Claus' representative there seems to have all the power and magic that tradition has built up around Saint Nicholas himself.

He has a way of producing toys and even live animals and birds from under the coats of children visiting the store, much to their delight.

The sleight-of-hand performances are proving interesting to the grown-ups as well as the children, and have resulted in large numbers of persons being attracted to the store.

The feature will be continued daily from now until Christmas, and judging from the results of the first few days, the management is making preparations to accommodate as many as possible to see Santa Claus do his tricks.

MOVE TO ABOLISH CUBAN CONSULATE HERE PROTESTED

A move to abolish the Cuban consulate in Atlanta is under consideration by the Cuban government, it was learned Wednesday, and T. R. Gress, assistant attorney-general, was appointed by the Foreign Trade Club to make representations before the Cuban president, urging its continuance here.

Mr. Gress, who is going to Havana December 28 on legal business, will appear before President Machado at Mr. Gress also was appointed chairman of a committee which will arrange a radio program at which a Cuban flag presented to the club by Dr. Guerra, former consul, will be accepted. Dr. Guerra and other Cubans will be notified of the day and hour of the program, and will be asked to listen in.

NARCOTIC AGENTS DRIVE CONTINUES; 4 ARRESTS MADE

Continuing their active campaign to "clean up" the city, federal narcotic agents Wednesday took into custody four more persons charged with violations of the Harrison narcotic act, running their total up to eight for the past few days' work.

Patrick J. Kennedy, one of the quietest, was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith Wednesday afternoon and committed to jail in default of $2,000 bond. Officers testified that they had found a small quantity of morphine in his possession. He did not deny the charge and told the court he had been an addict since 1904. Additional hearings are scheduled for today.

FULTON COUNTY SALARY SCHEDULE IS GIVEN TO BOARD

With little or no change from those now in effect, heads of the former county fee offices, Wednesday submitted to the board of county commissioners the salary schedule for 1930 for their offices.

No action was taken by the board, which was meeting in special session, the members desiring time to study the schedule before passing on the proposals of the county officers. Salaries of all departmental institution heads and other county employees not serving in former fee offices will be fixed at a meeting of the board early in January.

JUDGE CALLOWAY ILL, POLICE COURT HEARINGS DELAYED

All cases set to be heard by the recorder Wednesday morning will be heard this morning, as court was continued until today due to the sudden illness of Recorder A. W. Calloway. Judge Calloway was taken ill a few minutes before time for court and a substitute from the city council could not be obtained until noon. Notice, to fill his place, court, therefore, was continued until today. The judge's illness is not serious.

KIRKWOOD CHURCH TO GIVE CANTATA ON SUNDAY NIGHT

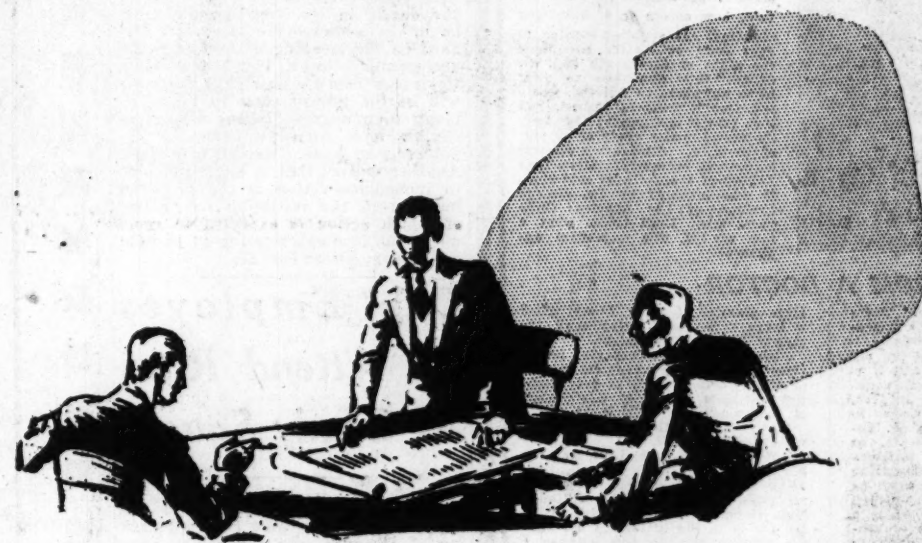

A Christmas cantata, "Tidings of Great Joy," will be given by the choir of the Kirkwood Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock Sunday night. Soloists for the occasion will be Mrs. Fred Boring, Mrs. Emory Merck, Miss Lula Foster, Bernard P. Owen and B. D. Garner. They will be assisted by the choir and Miss Elizabeth Jackson and Claude Mitchell, violinists. Mrs. J. L. Jackson is directing the cantata.

"National Advertisers Will Spend $20,000,000 More in Advertising in 1930 Than They Did During 1929"

—ASSOCIATION OF NATIONAL ADVERTISERS

NO PESSIMISM in evidence among the large national advertisers—they are going ahead, increasing rather than decreasing their appropriations. But they are buying their "space" cautiously, determined to make every advertising dollar count, during 1930.

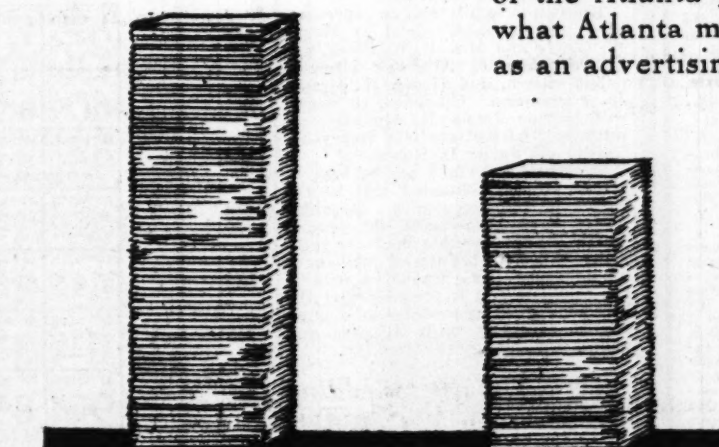

Right now, the country over, sales managers and other executives are closeted with their advertising agency officials, making up schedules calculated to produce maximum business. The A. B. C. Statements (Audit Bureau of Circulations) are being scrutinized—paragraph by paragraph, because these statements constitute a wonderful guide to the buying of resultful advertising.

"Don't You Agree THE CONSTITUTION Alone Can Do the Job in Atlanta?"

"Don't think I mean to cut down on our appropriation for Atlanta," explains the executive vice president. "Not at all, for that's one of our best bets as a market. But the latest A. B. C. statement indicates such a big circulation lead for The Constitution that I believe we'll do well to concentrate all our advertising in that paper as far as Atlanta's concerned."

"Check with you," replies the advertising agency man. "Not only is The Constitution far ahead of any other Atlanta daily in circulation, but figures show it is increasing in local lineage faster than any of the Atlanta papers. That gives you an idea of what Atlanta merchants think of The Constitution as an advertising medium."

Circulation increase of
The Daily Constitution in the past five years.

Circulation increase of the other two Atlanta dailies combined in the same period.

It used to be: "Which papers shall we use in Atlanta to get adequate coverage?"
... It now is: "Is there really any necessity of using another paper besides The Constitution?"

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE, HARDEGREE PLEA SEEN

Hearing on Bond Plea for Confessed Slayer Will Be Heard Saturday.

Strong indication that Elwell L. Hardegree, confessed slayer of Professor Alexander Hamilton Johnson, will enter a plea of justifiable homicide was given Wednesday when his attorneys appeared before Superior Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy to file in his behalf a plea for release on bond. The plea will be given a hearing by Judge Pomeroy at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

In filing the plea for bail William G. McKee and George G. Finch, attorneys for Hardegree, told Judge Pomeroy that Hardegree did not "even know the name of the man he killed until he read it in the newspapers the morning after the slaying."

"Hardegree killed Johnson when the teacher attacked him and wanted him to go into an undesirable place," McKee said. "He acted in self-defense."

Johnson, principal of a group of Hartwell schools, was killed here on the night of June 29 while he was visiting the convention of the National Education Association. J. W.

Wike, an Easton carpenter, first was indicted for the killing after he had been identified as the man seen with Johnson a short time before his body was found. Wike still is under indictment for the murder and still is held without bond but his release is expected in a few days as the solicitor-general's office has announced its intention of asking that the indictment against him be nolle prossed.

Hardegree walked into the editorial offices of The Constitution and confessed the Johnson murder last week. He was indicted by the Fulton grand jury Tuesday.

SAFETY SURVEY TO BE DISCUSSED BEFORE AD CLUB

C. C. Whitaker, who was at the head of the commission which recently made a survey of Atlanta's traffic conditions at the request of Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, in an effort to bring about a greater degree of safety, will be the principal speaker at the Advertising Club luncheon at 12:30 today at the Piedmont hotel.

The survey will be discussed in detail by Mr. Whitaker and his effects almost every line of business in Atlanta, it is believed that the address will prove particularly interesting to members of the club, in view of which fact, Louis N. Moore, program chairman for December, urges a large attendance.

YAARAB TO HOLD RITES IN NEW MOSQUE DEC. 31

Ceremonial Session and Dedication Will Terminate on Night of January 1.

Yaarab temple's ceremonial session and dedication ceremonies of the new mosque, beginning December 31 and terminating the night of January 1, will be the greatest Shrine event in Atlanta since the imperial council session held here in June, 1914.

Imperial Potentate Leo V. Youngworth, of Los Angeles, is making a special trip to Atlanta to be present on the occasion, and he will be met here by several of the high officials of the imperial divan. Twenty-five illustrious potentates of southern temples have been invited, and a large number have already accepted, while the bands, patrols and chanters of Koroba temple, Knoxville; Orlan, Lexington, Ky.; Jerusalem, New Orleans; Alcazar, Montgomery; Alhambra, Chattanooga; Hija, Greenville, S. C.; Al Sihah, Macon, and Oasis, Charlotte, will be present and participate in the parades and exercises.

The impressive first section of the Shrine ritual, for the rendition of which the divan of Yaarab temple has gained widespread fame, will be given in the new mosque assembly room at 8 p. m. on December 31. The uniformed organizations of Yaarab temple, together with those of visiting temples, will meet at the Union station at 8:30 a. m., January 1, to meet the imperial potentate and form an escort for him to the mosque, where the second section of the ceremonial session will begin promptly at 9:30 a. m. This session will be held in the great auditorium of the mosque. Immediately following the ceremonial session the dedication ceremonies will be held, and after lunch a big parade will escort the imperial officers and visiting potentates to Grant field for the great charity football game. A grand ball will be held in the mosque ballroom the evening of January 1.

Applications for membership in the first class to cross the hot sands of the desert in the new mosque must be in the possession of the record on the morning of December 23, accompanied by a check for $110. Potentate Tom C. Law says that this will be the largest class in years, as many high degree Masons who are eligible have been awaiting the opportunity of joining this historic class. Another motive that is spurting to immediate action is the proposed increase in the initiation fee, notice of which action is expected to come up at the business meeting to be held on Friday, December 27.

EFFORT MAKE TO RUSH CHECKS FOR TEACHERS

Efforts are being made by Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of education, to have the December payment of the equalization fund forwarded to the counties in time to be distributed among the teachers before Christmas, it was learned Wednesday.

Dr. Duggan said that Governor L. G. Hardman, Comptroller General William B. Harrison and State Treasurer William J. Speer were co-operating with him to the fullest in the attempt. He also said that wholesale oil companies had pledged their co-operation by making payments of gasoline tax collections ahead of time.

The hope that the money could be forwarded today or Friday was expressed by the state superintendent.

The payment will be of the November tax collections, which in the usual order will be paid by the oil companies on December 20, and forwarded to the counties January 1. The installment is of about $150,000.

The oil companies, it was said, have agreed to make their payments today. The comptroller-general has agreed to turn the money over to the treasurer at once, and attaches of the treasurer's office said they would work at night if it was necessary to get the checks out in time for Christmas.

City Employees To Attend Rites At Grady Square

City hall workers will attend the dedication at 11 o'clock Friday morning of Henry Grady square, at Forsyth and Marietta streets, in honor of Atlanta's great citizen and benefactor, Mayor Ragsdale announced Wednesday.

"This occasion, the dedication of one of Atlanta's busiest intersections to the memory of Henry W. Grady, should call forth a fine showing of civic interest," Mayor Ragsdale declared. "City hall workers will be permitted to attend and it is hoped the entire city will give cognizance to the event."

James D. Robinson, president of the Central Marietta Street Association, in discussing the event said: "The designation of Forsyth and Marietta streets by city officials as Henry Grady square is worthy of the heartiest commendation. One of Atlanta's best known corners and former site of the old state capitol, it is a most appropriate contribution toward the perpetuation of a name closely linked with the history of the city. All Atlanta should join in this noteworthy event."

Ivan Allen, representing the Central Marietta Street Association, considered those who auspices the ceremonies to be held, will preside and introduce in turn Mayor Ragsdale, who will officially dedicate the square, and Dr. Sam W. Small, of The Constitution, an authority on Atlanta's history and intimate friend of Henry Grady, who will deliver the principal address in eulogy of the great orator and statesman.

The Grady family will be represented on the speakers' stand by Henry W. Grady and Mrs. E. R. Black, son and daughter of Atlanta's foremost public citizen. Others of Henry Grady's family, who will be present, will include James R. Holiday, an intimate friend of the late Henry W. Grady, and James D. Robinson.

The speakers' stand at the base of Henry Grady monument will be the center of the ceremonies. Arrangements have been made for special traffic handling so that the large gathering expected to attend will have ample space from which to witness the exercises. It is probable that the ceremonies will be recorded on a number of newsreels to be released and shown throughout the country.

Nearing 55th Wedding Anniversary, T. C. Wilkie Dies at City Hospital

Theodore C. Wilkie, 79, of 934 Pryor street, S. W., who on Christmas Day expected to celebrate his fifty-fifth wedding anniversary, died Wednesday morning at Grady hospital after a three-week illness. Mr. Wilkie was a retired railroad engineer.

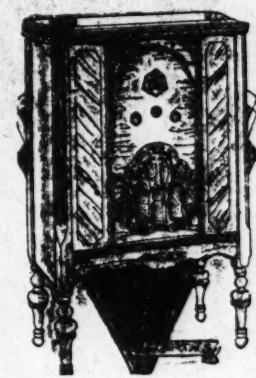

Six years ago Mr. Wilkie was retired by the Southern railway after more than 30 years with the system as an engineer. He was a native Alabamian, but since his boyhood had resided in Georgia. He was a member of Capitol Avenue Baptist church and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Funeral rites will be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence with Dr. W. H. Major and the Rev. Louis D. Newton officiating. Burial will be in Stone Mountain cemetery.

In addition to his widow, Mr. Wilkie is survived by four sons, Lee, C. V. F. H. and T. C. Wilkie, Jr., all of Atlanta; five daughters, Mrs. Young Holland, Mrs. M. D. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. L. D. Edwards and Mrs. C. A. Founds, all of Atlanta; and Mrs. Lucy Whitlock, of Sheffield, Ala.; two sisters, Mrs. Vic Carter and Mrs. Carrie Wade, both of Belton, and several grandchildren.

Health Is Here!

There is an insistent demand for a treatment for human diseases aside from operations and drugs, and the Miracle Health Circle has come in answer to this demand. It magnetizes and rebuilds the human body, kills pain, aids circulation, loosens congestion and eliminates poison. No drugs, no surgeon's knives, no electric shocks or X-rays, no pain, no suffering, no loss of time. It is a simple, natural, and safe method of curing all diseases, no matter how long standing. It supplies sunshine to your body no matter how dark the night or dreary the day. We deliver this appliance to your home anywhere in Georgia, where you test it free. If desired, you then rent it one month; then buy it at a special price. Alternating electric current is necessary. More than 150,000 of these circles sold since it was invented by Dr. George Proctor, of Los Angeles, three years ago. Read below what a few of our clients say of this wonderful appliance:

FROM A DOCTOR

"Now as to the Miracle. There is no question but that it is a specific for all types of rheumatism. I have been using one in my practice for quite a while, and it is really remarkable how fast it works in relieving neuralgia pains. In fact, in almost any condition, it seems to have a powerful effect for good. Especially with my old patients, or folks past 70 years of age, it seems to have a remarkable rejuvenating effect. Now, I realize it may be only a bundle of wire, but 'hey, oh, hey,' how fast that bundle of wire will cure a case of sciatica or neuralgia, or cure a case of various veins. In view of the fact that I am a successful druggist physician with a large practice, I think I can, after a large experience, speak with authority on this instrument. 'Why is it that this wonderful invention, and even the wonderful science of Chiropractic, which is recognized now in most states, of the Union, is condemned and criticized? After all, gentlemen, results are what tell the tale. Also I wish to add here that the Miracle Health Circle I have been using was given to me by one of my patients who cured herself of a long standing complaint. Proof of the pie is in the eating. I am simply writing this to you because I like to see credit go where credit is due.' (Signed) L. F. ROY, D. C., Ph. C.

"This is to certify that I had a very severe case of rheumatism. My ankle was swollen so that I could hardly walk and in my work as a salesman in the city of Birmingham could not step from the street to the curbing. I have also had a severe case of sciatica of 20 years standing. I used the M. H. C. 30 days and my rheumatism was cured.

"I have been giving readings in Birmingham for 25 years. Thousands of people know me. I was a sufferer from catarrh of the stomach. The Miracle Health Circle has completely cured me and made me 20 years younger. I freely and gladly

"I gladly testify to the merits of the Miracle Health Circle. I tried it in a Birmingham hospital where I was a patient and where a friend had one. I used it two days and went home and set one for myself. I had a terrible case of weak heart, caused from the release of fire. I thought my days were numbered.

"I have been suffering from anemia for eight years. I have spent worlds of money for drugs but they did me no good. I finally went to the hospital to have an operation performed, but the doctor told me it was useless. I used the Miracle Health Circle. I used it eight days and did me more good than drugs had done in eight years. It is simply wonderful.

"Another evidence of the miraculous work of the appliance is in the case of my cousin, whose back was broken two years ago in a fall in South Carolina. Her back was placed back in position but she became paralyzed from her waist down.

"I have now used the Miracle Health Circle 30 days and in that time have improved wonderfully. Pain has practically all departed and my contractions are speedily reducing, so that to me the appliance is a blessing.

"In the last two months it has been my privilege to witness its efficacy in many ailments, such as

"I feel I must write and tell you, to others may learn what your Magnetic appliance is doing for me. I am 57 years old, and for 17 years have been ailing. The last year I have suffered death a thousand times.

"I consulted some of the best physicians in town. They told me there was nothing they could do, only give me a drug to stop my pain.

"Now comes the part of the story most people will not believe, but is the very truth. I was stricken with the most terrible wicked pain any one could bear, appearing, I honestly suffered until agony. I was almost paralyzed in my hands and feet caused from the pains of what the doctors said was a cancer on the bladder. I was very low and was thought dying and my stomach was swollen to the extremity of the expansion of my skin.

"My son heard of your wonderful heart failure, high blood pressure, toxic gout, fits, rheumatism, female complaints, acute deaf, etc., and some remarkable cures are being made daily. To the sick I have but one suggestion. Get one and use it. Respectfully signed, JAS. B. DRINKWATER, 189 S. Second E Street, Logan, Utah.

appliance and had one brought to my home. I began taking treatments at once. In one hour I was relieved of pain and for the first time in weeks I slept good that night. It's just been two weeks today and I feel as if I am improving fast each day and can help with the house work. Your wonderful treatment has truly saved my life and I am going to continue using it. I am freely giving this testimony to the people who suffer as I know that it will positively help and cure them. You may use this letter as you wish.

"Can't say too much for your wonderful appliance and do hope every sick person will give it a try. I have but one suggestion. Get one and use it. Really and truly do. If any one wishes to come to me I will gladly tell them of my cure and how it has helped me. My lifelong friend, (Signed) MRS. A. D. NELSON, 201 West Second, South, Utah.

REMEMBER: The Miracle Health Circle has been known to dissolve tumors, gall stones. It magnetizes and rebuilds the human body. It is recommended for all of the following diseases: Anemia, arthritis, asthma, bladder trouble, bronchitis, appendicitis, catarrh, colitis, constipation, cystitis, hemorrhoids, heart disease, high blood pressure, indigestion, nervous debility, neuralgia, obesity, prostate trouble, premature gray, sciatica, rheumatism, tumor, various veins, vertigo, prostrates, and many others. Get one at once and prove to yourself its wonderful healing qualities.

Mr. Andy Jackson Tells How Cuticura Healed Eczema.

"My trouble with eczema first began with an itching and burning. It broke out around my waist and on my arms in little pimples. I could not rest at night and the irritation prevented me from sleeping. It lasted a bout six months.

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped me. I purchased more and in about three months I was completely healed." (Signed) Andy Jackson, 2823-10th Ave., Bessemer, Ala.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25c and 50c. Telcum 50c. Sold everywhere. Sample free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass."

MISS WALKER MAKES DEBUT AMID DAZZLING SNOW SCENE

Debbies Dance Flag Figure In Ice-Covered Pine Forest

A glistening ice-covered pine forest formed the dazzling white setting for the debut ball of Miss Leone Walker, who made her formal entrance into society's most exclusive ranks last evening at the Piedmont Driving Club at which the debutante's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eakes Freeman were hosts. Dozens of large pine trees laden with glittering icicles, the realistic effect produced by a chemical process with which the green boughs had been treated, lined the walls of the spacious ballroom and stood at the base of the twelve massive white colonial columns down the center of the room. An icicle-like incrustation covered the entire ceiling with myriads of opaque electric bulbs shining faintly through the crystallized ice. A warmth of color was added by subdued red shades alternating with the frosted lights, while a cheery atmosphere was provided by the log fire burning in the large fireplace at the far end of the ballroom.

The yuletide motif was introduced in the striking decorations by four huge lighted Christmas trees, two of these beautifully decorated pine standing guard on either side of the ballroom entrance and the other two gracing each side of the broad fireplace. Garlands of holly, mistletoe and smilax adorned the frosted side lights and the silver arched doorways and windows.

Receiving Guests.
Mr. and Mrs. Freeman and Miss Walker were assisted in receiving by Miss Elnora Harrow, of Savannah, the guest of the latter, a group standing just inside the entrance of the ballroom on the right. Palms and foliage plants combined with innumerable baskets of flowers and floral bouquets sent the popular debutante by her host of close friends to provide a beautiful background for the receiving party. Miss Walker wore an exquisite creation of which chiffon made with the modish uneven hemline that reached to floor length in the back. The deep V-shaped neckline of the princess fitting bodice was trimmed with crystal embroidery which was also introduced on the lower part of the skirt. She carried a large bouquet of Paeonia roses, tied with a matching shade of ribbon faced with a delicate bird's egg blue, the striking contrast of the deep cerise roses emphasizing the exquisite beauty of her white gown. Mrs. Freeman's gown was fashioned of flesh-colored satin, the modish ankle length skirt formed of two front and back panels falling from the high princess, waistline, an embroidery of crystals and pearls trimming the panels. Mrs. Freeman wore a shoulder bouquet of orchids and valley lilies. Miss Harrow was crowned in seafoam green chiffon velvet combined with tulle to match. A shoulder bouquet of green orchids and valley lilies completed the attractive costume.

Assisting in the reception rooms and adjoining salons of the ballroom were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Childs, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Jones, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Jones, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Wimbly Peters, Mrs. Julia Murphy Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Cary Baker, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Thorswell, Dr. and Mrs. Julian Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Hurt, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Belser, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Robin Adair, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pottinger and Miss Martha Edmondson.

Flag Figure.
At 11 o'clock Miss Walker and Dr. LeRoy Childs led the grand march followed by the other 35 beautifully gowned debutantes and their escorts. Immediately after the march, Miss Walker and Dr. Childs led the graceful and effective flag figure, the former carrying the gorgeous silk American flag used by Thomas B. Paine, a prominent Atlanta society leader, at the exclusive cotillions given yearly at the fashionable Greenbriar White Sulphur Springs, Va. The fluttering of myriads of small silk American flags from the hands of those taking part in the colorful figure added to the beauty of the dance, which was brought to a spectacular climax by the falling of thousands of snowflakes released from the icicle ceiling. Immediately after the flag figure, supper was served, the coffee tables being placed at one end of the ballroom. Silver candelabras holding unshaded red tapers and silver vases of crimson roses were arranged at intervals on the beautifully appointed tables. Punch was served throughout the evening in the loggia from bowls embedded in smilax, mistletoe and holly.

Popular Debutante.
The lovely debutante, who was presented formally to society last evening is a representative of prominent southern families, her parents being Leon Walker and the late Mrs. Walker. The debutante's mother was, before her marriage, Miss Ruby Byington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Byington, who were numbered among Georgia's leading pioneers. Mrs. Walker was a beloved member of Atlanta's social, civic and cultural circles, and from her lovely mother the debutante has inherited much personal charm and gracious manner. Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. Charles Morrow Brazelton, of Waco, Texas, are the debutante's sisters. Miss Walker is a graduate of Washington University, where she made an enviable record, having been president of her class during her sophomore and senior years. Her senior year was also marked by the election of Miss Walker as vice president of the Phi Phi sorority, of which she is a popular member. Miss Walker completed her education at Holton Arms, in Washington, D. C., where she also was a fete belle.

O'Keefe Class Gives Dinner.
The salesmanship class of O'Keefe Junior High school will have a dinner this evening at the Temple Synagogue restaurant, 19 North Pryor street. Mrs. Simon Freitag and Mrs. Leo Strauss will be in charge of the restaurant from 6 until 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Kline Entertained At Old-Fashioned Steak Dinner Wednesday

An old-fashioned steak dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Kline were host and hostess Wednesday night, was given a novel and unique twist by the introduction of several entertaining features which included a live calf and butcher costumes for the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Kline entertained 100 guests at an old-fashioned beefsteak dinner last evening in the tea room of Davison-Paxon Company. The dinner was followed by dancing.

The atmosphere of an old English tavern was carried out in every detail of the unique decorations of the long hall, at the end of which was placed a massive U-shaped table covered with red and white checkered cloth, about which the guests took their places upon old packing boxes, barrels and massive cans. Inside the enclosure, which presented an elevated greensward, a live calf grazed in a whitewashed enclosure upon which chickens and cats perched, adding to the rural atmosphere of the unique affair.

Upon entering the elevated enclosure each guest donned an appropriate butcher's apron and cap and joined the guests by ascending an old-fashioned stile, the only entrance to the table where a real old-fashioned steak dinner was served. A feature of the entertainment was the presentation of a miniature real skin calf to each guest. Following the dinner old-time fiddlers furnished music for dancing.

The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Clark Howell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joel Chandler Harris, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Beall, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickland, Jr., Judge and Mrs. Luther Z. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Robert, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Newgate Owensby, Mr. and Mrs. George W. West, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Klatt Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Baker, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. William Akers, Mrs. Clifford Hatcher, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Moore, Dr. Claude Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Charles LeRoux, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Almond, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Allen and Colonel and Mrs. F. J. Paxon.

Members' Room Is Proposed Plan At High Museum

A members' room is an interesting proposed project at the High Museum of Art, 1262 Peachtree street, it is announced by L. P. Skidmore, director. The room, which will be comfortably furnished with chairs, tables, writing material and various art publications, will, it is believed, prove a vital factor in bringing members of the art association to the museum.

The permanent gift and loan collections of the museum, which will probably be added to measurably before the close of the season, will, it is planned, be housed in this room. As meeting place for members after visiting current exhibitions the members' room will be a decided addition to the institution.

The three exhibitions now on view at the museum are focusing the interest of the art loving public of the city. The water color exhibit of Leon Foster Jones, of New York city

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

GENERAL VON KLUCK.

THE GERMAN PLAN FOR THE CONQUEST OF FRANCE, 1914.

The Story of the World War

—Von Kluck's Wheeling Movement.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ABANDONING THE LINE OF THE Sambre in Belgium (August 23, 1914), after a brave but futile resistance, the allies desperately sought by a rapid retreat to elude the envelopment of their left flank, ordering the French line from Verdun to Belfort to stand fast at all costs, Joffre directed a general retirement in the west before the mighty wheeling movement of the Germans.

THE GERMAN PURSUIT WAS VIGOROUS AND RELENTLESS. THEIR HEAVY GUNS HURLED HIGH EXPLOSIVE AND SHRAPNEL AFTER THE RETREATING FRENCH AND BRITISH ARMIES, WHILE THEIR CAVALRY OCCUPIED TOWN AFTER TOWN AS SOON AS THEY WERE ABANDONED. IN SPITE OF THE NEED OF HASTE, THE RETREAT OF THE ALLIES WAS CONDUCTED IN AN ORDERLY MANNER AND THE LINE SWUNG BACK UNBROKEN.

Miss Coggins Honors Debs At Lovely Tea

Miss Pearl Coggins was hostess to 150 members of Atlanta society yesterday at tea at her home on Avery drive in honor of Miss Catherine Norcross, Miss Elizabeth Dodd and Miss Mary Dodd, three popular debutantes. Attractive Christmas decorations were used throughout the reception rooms. In the dining room the beautifully appointed table was overlaid with a lace cover, in the center of which was placed a silver epergne holding red roses and ferns; placed at artistic intervals were the silver candelsticks holding red unshaded tapers alternating with compots of mints and nuts. Receiving with the hostess was her mother, Mrs. T. R. Coggins, the honor guests, and Miss Arzie Neil, of Nashville, the guest of Miss Coggins. Assisting in entertaining the guests were Mrs. B. F. Coggins, Mrs. W. S. Anderson, Mrs. William Carol, Miss Lula Collier, Miss Frances Patten, Miss Palmer Dallis, Miss Margaret Underwood, Miss Florence Underwood, Miss Virginia Courts, Miss Emily McPhail, Miss Carolyn Adams and Miss Harriett Turman.

Atlanta U. D. C. Will Be Host To General U. D. C.

Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., indorsed the action of the executive board to extend to the general division, U. D. C., invitations to meet in Atlanta in 1931, and a telegram to this effect was sent Mrs. L. M. Bashinsky, of Montgomery, Ala., president-general. She will extend the Atlanta chapter invitation to the 1930 convention. Mrs. D. E. Stevenson, president, presided at Tuesday afternoon's meeting, and in line with U. D. C. work, and also imbued with the Christmas spirit, a collection was taken up at the meeting and a substantial amount was raised to add to the fund solicited each year for a group of ex-slaves.

Two Christmas tree parties will be given Confederate veterans during the Christmas season by Mrs. A. J. Woodward, chairman of Veterans' Aid, and Mrs. Alva D. Kiser, chairman of Soldiers' Home. Mrs. Kiser will have her party at the chapter house this afternoon, December 19, and Mrs. Woodward's party will be Friday afternoon, December 27.

Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby, past president of the Fulton chapter, U. D. C., and state treasurer, gave information on the benefit Confederate program which the Fulton chapter will give at the Women's Club January 20.

Mesdames W. S. Coleman, Warren D. White and Earl Scott, delegates to the national U. D. C. convention held in Biloxi, Miss., spoke of the different phases of the U. D. C. brought out at the convention. Reports from Mesdames D. F. Stevenson, J. P. Bellups and Slaughter Linthicum were posted and the January meeting, Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., entertains the state board at its January meeting.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

HOOTY'S HOPES ARE REALIZED BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Some folks there are who do not see persistence make a virtue of it. —Hooty the Owl.

Hooty the Owl was growing impatient. Yes, sir, he was growing impatient. He had followed Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy a long distance and now they seemed to be simply waiting time. They had stopped. Hooty had thought at first that they must have reached the farm where the turkeys were. He had circled around and found no farm. Those two foxes had stopped in a piece of woods and were actually lying down. Hooty didn't know what to make of it. But having followed them this far, there was nothing for Hooty to do but to wait where they would go next. So he perched in the top of a tree and kept his eyes fixed on those foxes. He had no intention of allowing Reddy and Mrs. Reddy to slip away.

The moon was very late in coming up, and then it was only a quarter-moon. But it gave light enough to hunt by. You know the eyes of Hooty the Owl are very wonderful. It is just the kind of light that suits him. It was just after this silvery light of the moon came creeping in through the treetops that Reddy and Mrs. Reddy got to their feet, stretched, yawned, and started on, Reddy in the lead.

By and by they crossed some open fields. They were making straight towards some farm buildings that Hooty could see. From his position up in the air, of course, he could see much farther and much more clearly than he could have seen had he been on the ground. It didn't take him long to discover that there were some old apple trees over near the barn. He remembered what Reddy had told him about the turkeys and how they roosted in a tree. One glance at Reddy and Mrs. Reddy was enough to let Hooty know that they had reached the end of their journey. You see, those foxes were for the faint moonlight and everything was very, very quiet. Apparently, those turkeys were sound asleep. Hooty spread his great, brown, silent wings and for all the world like a great drifting shadow he floated back and forth above that tree, picking on the turkey he would have for dinner. All his hopes were now realized. He had found the turkeys and that was all he asked. He would do the rest.

The next story: "The Success of Reddy's Plan." (Copyright, 1929, for The Constitution.)

When Your Cough Hangs On, Mix This at Home

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be mixed at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it, you will never be without it. It keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, it contains the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded. (adv.)

The Misses King Will View Sports In Montreal Canada

Miss Jane King, who arrives today from Finch's school in New York city to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. ## MABEL NORMAND SLIGHTLY BETTER AT SANITARIUM

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(AP)—Mabel Normand, once one of the screen's most prominent actresses, is slightly improved, her physician, Dr. Francis M. Pottenger, said today, but her condition still is serious. Miss Normand has been making a desperate fight against tuberculosis at a sanitarium in Montevideo, Cal., near here, for several months.

"We have noticed a slight change recently," Dr. Pottenger said, "but Miss Normand's condition still is serious."

Miss Normand is the wife of Lew Cody, film actor.

HUSBAND ESCAPED FROM PEN HERE, WIFE DECLARES

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Mrs. John D. Roberts, taken into custody following the arrest of her husband who was charged with stealing an automobile tire, was quoted by police last night as declaring Roberts was an escaped prisoner from the Atlanta federal penitentiary and that police of San Francisco and Santa Barbara wanted him for passing fictitious checks.

The name of John D. Roberts was not listed as an escaped convict at the United States penitentiary here, according to information furnished at the institution.

After OPERATIONS

"I was three times under an operation and I was very weak and nervous and could not eat. I suffered for ten years. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my husband bought me a bottle. I felt a little better and he bought me two more. I had the Compound in my home for two years and took it all the time. Now I feel strong and can do anything."—Mrs. A. Michalk, 5443 Mitchell Ave., Detroit, Michigan.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Both girls have at one time or another held the solo endurance record for women.

Goodrum at the Piedmont Driving Club, Monday evening, December 30. Several hundred invitations will be issued to the dancing contingent of society. Miss Goodrum, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Goodrum, of Newman, is a niece of the hostess, Mrs. Goodrum, whom she will visit during the holidays, and is attending Wesleyan college in Macon. Miss Goodrum is enrolled at Miss Finch's school in New York city and returns Saturday to Atlanta to spend the holidays with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Goddard, at their home on Oakdale road in Druid Hills, Miss Frances Barnett, a popular member of the Debutante Club of 1929-30, is an older daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen Barnett.

Achim Sisterhood Sponsors Ball.

The 40th annual Chanukah ball to be sponsored by the Achim Achim Sisterhood will be held on Tuesday, January 7, at the Jewish Women's Club. This celebration of the Chanukah festival and all proceeds of the ball are used each year in the furthering of the work of the Sisterhood, which is the maintenance of all the educational and spiritual work taught in the A. A. synagogue. Various committees, under the head of Mrs. Meyer Rich, are working earnestly to make this a gala event. Those desiring tickets may call Mrs. E. Lippman at Main 3903, as ticket chairman. This event will include novelty booths, dancing and other interesting features, and admission will be 50 cents.

Jackets To Elect Captain for 1930 at Annual Banquet Tonight

ALL-STAR GAME TO DRAW HUGE CROWD

In the brief career of Arthur (The Great) Shires, Chicago White Sox first baseman, as a pugilist one finds a morsel for thought to enjoy.

Shires gained a reputation as a rough and tumble fighter during the baseball season and was given teams of publicity, most of it facetious in character, for his bare knuckle encounters with Hack Wilson, Cub centerfielder, and "Lena" Blackburn, his own manager.

Shires took his fistic ability seriously. He coined his own name, "The Great." His wit was as nimble as his knuckles. By his own vast ego he lifted himself into the public eye. A prize fight promoter in Chicago booked him for a boxing bout with what the trade calls a set-up and a capacity crowd saw "The Great" win handily.

The happy promoter then matched Arthur "The Great" with one George Trafton, a pro football player with the Chicago Bears. Again the house was sold out. Trafton was in no shape for a fight and had never boxed professionally, but he flattened "The Great" Shires in five rounds.

WHAT DO THEY WANT?

Now, what do boxing fans want? Skilled boxers have fought to empty seats more than once in Chicago, yet a blatant baseball player with no training matched with a cheap set-up once and with a novice again draws two capacity houses and big purses.

Boxing fans are more interested in personalities than in boxing, it seems. The noisy, shallow, unskilled Shires carried more popular appeal than many a clever boxer. Boxing fans simply enjoy being bunked, which can be said of a number of other classes of folks.

When a burlesque rendition of any sport becomes more popular than the serious pursuit of that sport I suspect it means that the sport is picking at the coverlids and calling for the family to stand by.

ZIPP IS SHOCKED.

The radical action of the Southern conference in endorsing scholarships for athletes finds at least one authority who views it with alarm and a measure of irony.

Brother Zipp Newman, of Birmingham News, is shocked, it is plain to see, as he writes the following critique:

"The action of the Southern conference in endorsing scholarships, loans and athletic association money for athletes is at least open to debate. Will the action eventually lead to our schools maintaining out and out paid teams? What will the other conferences think of the S. C. plan to recognize a practice that has been kept under cover these many years?"

"What the S. C. has done is nothing new. It has only come out in print and sanctioned what most of the schools have been doing for years. The Carnegie report condemned athletic scholarships, campus jobs and athletic associations paying athletes for work around the schools. The S. C. commends what the Carnegie report condemned.

"Before going on record as being for or against what the S. C. has done, we want to see this new plan tried out. It may be a cure for the evils of football and it may make more rumors possible each fall.

"The idea that an athletic association can pay athletes 50 cents an hour may cause a lot of nasty rumors. There is no limit placed on the number of jobs an athletic association can find for deserving athletes.

"Now that the S. C. has adopted a working scale of 50 cents an hour, the S. I. A. A. should adopt a 51-cent an hour scale. That's if the S. I. A. A. wishes to lure good football bait. The Western conference will probably adopt a 75-cent scale and the West Coast $1 an hour.

"Athletes should insist on being given cards to show that they belong to the grid craft and are in good standing."

MARKET QUOTATION ON ANTIQUES.

Among the baseball deals of the season that will go down in the book was the one by which Pitcher Joe Martina, old-time New Orleans star, left the Dallas club.

Joe bought his release for two barrels of oysters, the story goes. The story added that the Atlanta Crackers were seeking the services of Oyster Joe.

If Joe and Ivy Wingo ever hook up as a battery at Spiller field, Johnny Dobbins can lay claim to having assembled the most venerable pair in Southern league baseball.

INFLATED PRICE FOR AN UMPIRE.

Which naturally recalls the time that Joe Cantillon sold the contract of Umpire Booth Hopper out of the American association for a bird dog. Umpire Hopper has worked many a game since then in the Southern league and thousands of fans will point to the price as just another example of the extravagance of baseball magnates.

"OH, BOY, WHAT A FIGHT!"

A pro football player blackened the eye and broke the nose of a radio announcer who was calling a prize fight in Chicago recently.

Which shows how football inculcates self-control in players.

Think of what you have wanted to do to them time and again.

SUNBURN AND FOOTBALL.

A young lady who saw the University of Oregon-Florida football game December 7 in Miami blushing tells a story that may account for part of the poor showing made by our visitors from the far west.

The Oregonians practiced two or three days in the blazing sun before the game and ill-advisedly took off their jerseys. They accumulated badly blistered backs.

Every scrimmage wreaked untold agony as jerseys were slapped and rubbed across the burned area. Before the game was far gone the visitors shed their jerseys in hopes of relieving the pain, but rough contacts still gave them a fit.

In that case the Oregonians deserve a lot of credit for even finishing the game. Can you imagine playing football with a sunburned back?

ANNUAL TECH BANQUET SET FOR TONIGHT

Yellow Jackets To Name 1930 Captain at A. A. C. Feast.

By Herb Clark.

Georgia Tech's 1929 football season will be signed, sealed and certified and laid away in the strong box tonight as the clarion call goes out to the members of the Jacket clan to gather at the Atlanta Athletic Club for the annual banquet, which is slated to get under way at 6:30 o'clock.

Members of the varsity and freshmen teams, the coaches, the Tech band, sundry gentlemen of the press, the team managers, Tech supporters who have been "with" the Jackets for time without end, will all be there. The club dining room will be put through a severe test.

Speeches—concise, verbose, dreamy or agitated—will flow round the festive board. Food and drink will be there in profuse quantities. It promises to be one of those w. k. "occasions."

It will be the last gathering of the clan for a number of the Jackets, the first for an enthusiastic crew of Jackets-to-be. Rank, the captain who steps down; Thomason, his first lieutenant; Mizell, Stump's running mate; Westbrook, Watkins, Sloan, Brumby, Law, Frink, Russell, Morrison, O'Beir, Faust, Luna, Swartz, Conley and Fitzgerald will sing their swan song. It will be their farewell tour. And all others will be on hand to bid them "God speed."

The freshmen, who are burdened with the necessity of furnishing the men who will step into line to replace these time and battle-tried veterans, will be newly initiated into the traditions of the teams which make their home at the Flats.

An added feature of the evening will be the election of the man who is to lead the Jackets through their campaign in 1930. Captain Cedar-town Rusk and Alternate Captain Stumpy Thomason will hand the reins over to their successors. And those successors will be ready to clutch them firmly for the long drive ahead—spring practice, the summer, and the season.

The Jackets and their clan will be on hand to give the seniors a send-off, to welcome the freshmen, to ruminate on the past and dream of the future.

Shires Planning To Quit Ring

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—(AP)—The Great Arthur Shires is almost convinced that as a professional fighter he is a good first-class man. He may retire from the ring.

Since he dropped the decision to George Trafton after five rounds Monday night, Shires has been a lot of sleeping and no little thinking and he is considering forgetting about fighting and getting in shape for a good impression.

"Maybe professional fighting isn't my game after all," The Great one orated to friends who came to offer condolences and quick remedies for the marks Trafton put on his face. "I have gotten about all I can out of it now—a few thousand dollars and a decade or more wanted to fight him. Unless someone gets me darn mad with his challenges, I may quit."

It is understood that King Arthur's vanguard of the long drive ahead is understood that King Arthur's vanguard of the long drive ahead is understood that King Arthur's vanguard of the long drive ahead.

Meanwhile, Promoter Jim Mullen was being besieged with requests for a chance to meet the "Bad Boy" of the White Sox in the ring. Baseball players, football players and a few boxers who haven't had a fight for a decade or more wanted to fight him. Al Nesser, veteran guard on the Akron (Ohio) professional football team, wants to fight Trafton for the "professional football championship of the world."

Jordan, a sophomore, played a good game at forward and was high scorer with 15 points. Lawson, at guard, showed up well and kept the LaGrange forwards well under guard.

Copeland at center and Higinbotham played the best game of the losers.

Georgia Basketball Squad Makes Progress

Here are two of Georgia's basketball players and their coach who are busy on the court at Athens. At the left is Henry Palmer, veteran forward, who was one of the big reasons for the team's success last winter. In the center is H. J. Stegeman, coach, who hopes to develop a championship contender of the material at hand. At the right is Joe Martin, guard, another veteran on whom much depends. The Bulldogs, with good material, hope for a successful season.

AUBURN QUINT TAKES OPENER

Tigers Defeat LaGrange High, 47 to 34; Lee Uses 11 Men.

AUBURN, Ala., Dec. 18.—(Special.)—Auburn opened its 1929 basketball season with a 47-to-34 victory over the LaGrange Y. M. C. A. team here tonight. Coach Hal Lee, former Cracker outfielder, used 11 men in the game and each of the candidates made a good impression.

Captain James, at guard, with 13 points, was the outstanding player on the Orange and Blue five. He is the only veteran back from the spectacular team that lost out in the semi-finals of the conference tournament last February.

Jordan, a sophomore, played a good game at forward and was high scorer with 15 points. Lawson, at guard, showed up well and kept the LaGrange forwards well under guard.

Boys in All-Star Game Deserve Much Credit

Lads Give Up Most of Vacation To Play Here New Year's for Charity.

By Ralph McGill.

Those of the body politic who are always seeking something sinister in college athletics must be more than ordinary nonplussed by the all-star game scheduled for Grant field on New Year's day.

There will be more than 50 football players here for the game. They will represent the northern and southern divisions of the Southern conference.

What will be particularly puzzling to the sinister minds is the fact that each player will be a volunteer. Some few of those invited have refused, there is nothing compulsory about it. It is purely an invitation affair.

The football players who appear on New Year's Day will be deserving of considerable hand slapping on the part of the spectators. They prove by their very presence that they are present because they like the game of football and because they are willing to contribute their services for a worthy cause.

LOSE VACATION. They lose most of their Christmas vacation by the move. They will leave home the day after Christmas and spend the remainder of the week in rather strenuous endeavor so that they will be ready for the game.

They know there will be little glory in it. There are too many of them for that and there will be no effort made to make any one of them heroes.

Summed up, it appears as a very fine, unselfish act on the part of the men who are coming for the game. They will receive nothing of tangible value, merely some keepake to remind them of the week they will have spent in work and the game they will have played.

NOTHING TANGIBLE. It will not be possible to trade in their clippings for a mess of pork chops or a new suit of clothes.

All of which must make the game seem very mysterious indeed to the lobby which pretends always to see some sordid financial arrangement in the college games.

There have been so many sob stories in the newspapers that the public sometimes wags a wise noggin and smiles tolerantly with maybe a nice word for the reporter who put the yarn together. It is a bit difficult to convince anyone, now that charity has been so well organized, that there is anything personal about it. It is even more difficult to imagine a blase young undergraduate getting a heart throb out of a sob story.

RELIEF. And yet the fact remains that they have. Most of them are cognizant of what is behind the game—the relief of crippled children in hospitals sponsored by the Shriners.

The football players are leg continued on Second Sport Page.

GREAT BATTLE IS PREDICTED BY STEGEMAN

Miniature of Army-Notre Dame Battle Seen Here New Year's.

By H. J. Stegeman.

Athletic Director, University of Georgia.

While general interest in individual football teams in the Southern conference has died down, a great deal of interest is being aroused in the public mind toward the all-star teams that will play in Atlanta on New Year's Day.

This game promises to be a real attraction in the way of football and the official aspect of it has appealed to the public tremendously. Several times in the past year all-star teams have attempted to put on a football show of one sort or another, but these have always had more or less a touch of private promotion.

The fact that the Southern conference has officially recognized the game and given full permission to it has given it a certain standing that other post-season games of other natures have not had. These features make the game a real part of the athletic program of the conference.

CONFERENCE COACHES. Moreover, the coaches that are handling the teams were appointed directly by the Southern Coaches Association and are, therefore, the official coaches of the two teams. These coaches accept these positions as a matter of real responsibility, not as a burnstorming proposition.

The players invited to this game have accepted with fine spirit, and as many as could get away from other duties felt that this was an opportunity to help out a project that was not only worthy in conception but official in sanction.

The method of selection of the men who are to represent the two sections of the conference was unique, but probably the most effective way of selecting players. Each coach of a conference team was asked to name the two best players in each position from teams in his section, but he was not allowed to mention any players on his own teams. This method of selection assured complete satisfaction as well as justice to every good player, and the men who were selected certainly represent the best football material in the Southern conference. An opportunity to see men of this kind in action in one game does not come very often, and is going to be a great chance for football fans.

ALL THE STARS. The idea of selecting two squads of 25 men each presents an opportunity for fans to see all the real star players of the conference in action. This list of players constitutes an honor roll of players of more than average ability.

The game promises to be a real football game as well as a great charity project. Indications assure a great crowd, in all probability one of the best that has seen a game of this sort from the south. The character of the project toward which the proceeds will go, the high type of men who are directly behind the game and the response up to its conception, all tend to make the game a real feature of the season.

Coach Bob Neyland, of Tennessee, will be in charge of the northern division team and he will be assisted by Coach Gus Tebell, of North Carolina State. The northern team promises to become favorites in the game because of the quality of its backfield men. Major Neyland, in all probability, will use his own style of play because he has three backfield men from his own team to carry the attack. Hackman, McEver and Dodd will probably be in the starting lineup and these players should be able to carry out Neyland's plans and plans pretty well without a great deal of extra practice and planning.

FINE ADDITION. With Magner, of North Carolina, and Dunn, of V. M. J., added to the three backs along with Shipweck Kelly, of Kentucky, the southern division team will have to get to work hard to stop the attack.

The southern section team will be coached by Charlie Bachman, of Florida, and Harry Mehre, of Georgia. Since both of these men employ the Notre Dame system of attack there is a probability that they may employ some of these methods, at least as much as can be taught by their squad in a short time. Should Neyland stick to his own system and Bachman and Mehre put on the Notre Dame system the fans will be treated to another Army-Notre Dame game. I am certain that nothing could please the fans more than this possibility.

The enthusiasm that all the players in both sections have shown toward accepting the invitations for this game promises a great affair. The Atlanta committee, headed by such fine sportsmen as Bob Gregg and Billy Wardlaw, has made many attractive entertainment plans for the visiting athletes. The game should go over big, and the proceeds toward their care immediately but Van derbilt is seeking a game so that they may release Auburn for the Tech schedule. This is not expected to be accomplished until the meeting in New York and it may if Vanderbilt's negotiations are completed earlier.

BULLDOGS SIGN PETREL QUINTET

2 Teams Meet at Athens January 3-4; Gamecock Games Put Off.

By K. Anderson.

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 18.—The University of Georgia basketball team will play Oglethorpe University here on January 3 and 4, according to an announcement made this afternoon by Coach H. J. Stegeman.

The games with the University of South Carolina, which were to have been played on the above dates, have been postponed until a latter date because of a faculty ruling requiring all students to register on or before the opening day of school.

Other games which are on the Bulldog schedule are: A. A. C. Reds on December 21; and Furman on January 1.

The Georgia basketball candidates will remain in Athens for practice until December 23, and will return a week later and resume their preparations for the Furman game on New Year's Day.

Coach Stegeman had the players go through a light workout this afternoon. The afternoon's work consisted in learning plays and getting familiar with the ball.

The Red and Black players showed the need of practice in the first game of the season on Tuesday against the Jewish Progressive Club Reds. Much stiffer opposition is expected from the A. A. C. Reds on Saturday night.

Fine Dogs Run At Pinehurst

Several brace of dogs out of a field declared by judges to be exceptionally fine, ran their races today in the derby event of the annual field trials of the Point Club of America. The derby will be completed tomorrow.

Inasmuch as a second series may be necessary, the judges, R. W. Norman, of Salisbury, N. C., and George W. Parsons, of Rutherford, Ala., would not comment upon the showing made by individual dogs. Speaking of the field as a whole, they said it included many entries of especial merit.

Whitney Horses Arrive at Macon

MACON, Ga., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Thomas W. Murphy arrived here today with a string of 46 running horses from the stables of Mrs. Parnes Whitney, New York.

Many of the horses are youngsters and they will be trained here during the winter for races to be run during the year.

There is a large crew of trainers with Mr. Murphy.

Atlanta fans may be cheering a young man named Red Brice before the 1930 baseball season has gone very far along the road.

Johnny Dobbs, who will manage the Cracker Slab next season, lets it be known that he considers Red Brice one of the best pitching prospects on the list.

A glance at the official averages of the New York-Pennsylvania league, where Brice toiled for Birmingham, reveals the fact that there is every reason in the world for John Dobbs to be very pleased indeed.

Bowling Results

Key Punched, Stenographers, Auditor of Station Accounts No. 1 and the Passenger Accounts Departments were winners Wednesday night in the Southern Railroad Ladies' Bowling Duckpin League on the Atlanta Bowling Alley.

The Passenger Accounts defeated the Station Accounts, 1,044 to 975. Auditor of Station Accounts defeated Stenographers, 1,075 to 888. Stenographers defeated Balancing Clerks, 1,100 to 1,021, and Key Punched defeated Interlines, 1,102 to 1,020.

There were five girls on each team and the scores Wednesday night showed a decided improvement over past performances. Lettford, of the Interlines, was high scorer with 261. Second place honors for the night went to Brannen of the Auditor of Station Accounts with 252 for the three games.

STEEL TEAMS MEET.
Members of the United States Steel League and its subsidiaries will play their regular weekly matches tonight. Knights of Columbus also will hold their weekly practices tonight on four of the ten pin alleys. The Knights of Columbus are endeavoring to form a league, or get into one of the leagues now being formed.

This average of 2.59 in 22 ball games. This average is exceptionally low and stamps Brice as a real pitcher. With Dobbs to handle him he should prove a consistent winner. This is one prospect that Dobbs kept under his hat, probably because no one asked him anything concerning the young man.

At the recent New York meeting of the major leagues the Birmingham people were buzzing around Red J. Spiller waving a fat check in offer for Brice. It was gently but firmly refused. The Cracker Slab is depending on him no little in 1930. If he should fail to come through it would constitute one of the major disasters of that season.

FARMED OUT.
Atlanta bought Brice from Buffalo last season and farmed him out to Birmingham. He will report with the pitchers and catchers early in March at whatever training site is decided on.

Cracker officials are trying to locate in Columbus, Ga. That city has a baseball club and it would be possible for the Cracker Slab to play training games with regulars before coming home to open the exhibition season.

Joe Martina, who purchased his release from Dallas for two barrels of oysters, has not been mentioned as a possibility for the Cracker pitching staff, according to officials here. A story to that effect came from New Orleans where the veteran is engaged in the oyster business, but it lacked confirmation here.

It is possible that Dobbs may give the veteran Pelican a trial in the spring should he desire one but there will be no effort made to grab him. Martina seems to have spent his best days as a pitcher. His last years with New Orleans found him effective only as a relief pitcher. He is smart and a willing worker but has little left to throw at the boys.

There is really very little doing at the Cracker baseball office. The new secretary, Chick Ross, of Mobile, will report after Christmas. Shortly after the first of the year Johnny Dobbs, Red J. Spiller and perhaps a news-rep from Birmingham will be in the city. When that hunt is completed the baseball news will begin to break. Until then there will be only occasional bits of information to keep the winter gossip going.

Has Promising Prospects for Next Year.

By Brian Bell.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Purchase of the contract of Earl (Sparky) Adams by the St. Louis Cardinals from the Pittsburgh Pirates will give Frank Frisch, the Fordham Flash, an opportunity to convince the baseball world that he still is just as good at third base as at second. Manager Gabby Street probably will slip Adams into the lineup at second base and leave third in charge of Frisch. Andy High, who did much of the basing for the Cards last season, will be retained as one of the utility infielders.

Charley Gelbert, hailed as one of the most promising of the season's baseball debutants last spring, played a great game at shortstop, but did not hit so well as his boosters expected. He improved late in the season, however, and may find himself at bat in another year. There is no better arm in baseball than that of Frisch. When he throws a ball to first base it travels like a bullet and seems no larger in its flight than a pea.

NO NOVELTY.
Playing third base will be no novelty to Frisch. He was a third baseman one whole season for the New York Giants and was at the position for some games in every season but four of the ten summers he spent wearing a New York uniform. Frisch had a great year in St. Louis in 1928, hitting better than .333 and stealing 25 bases.

As Dan Howley goes about the task of rebuilding the crumbling pitching staff of the Cincinnati Reds one of the redds of the Reds, Charles Fred Lucas, must be a great comfort to him.

Lucas is one of the great pitchers of baseball. Last year he won 19 games for a second division club, beating his best record with the club by one game. He won 18 in 1927. In 1928 he could win only 13, for he was hurt after he had started with a great rush, compiling eight victories before he was stopped. He was the best pinch-hitter in the National League in 1928, and it is always encouraging to have a pitcher on the bench, or in the game for that matter, who can hit the ball hard and often.

Red batted just a few points short of .300. His ability to hit better than most pitchers is explained by the fact that he is also an infielder or outfielder. If he could not pitch he could qualify for a major league position in the regular lineup.

Keech Special Will Race Here

One of several high-powered racing cars built for the late Ray Keech, internationally known race pilot, has been entered in the automobile race program scheduled for 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon on the new Atlanta Speedway on Pace's Ferry road.

A Miller special, which was built for Keech and specially constructed to run on dirt tracks, will be driven by Bob Robinson, of Benson Springs, Fla. The car was driven last Saturday by Robinson and in the time trials it turned the half-mile circular track in 26 seconds flat.

In the last race on the program, a five-mile sprint, Robinson won the event in five minutes and three seconds and his second and third laps were made in less than 26 seconds. Robinson is a veteran pilot and was chosen as a relief driver for Keech at Indianapolis, Ind., last year before he was killed. He has been a teammate of several of the best known auto race pilots in the country.

A crew of workmen under the direction of George Hamilton, manager of the speedway, are busy on the track getting it ready for the races Saturday.

More workmen are preparing parking space for spectators. The parking lot is free to the public and officials will be on hand to direct the traffic. Programs for the races will be distributed free of charge.

Indiana Dedicates
New S.M.U. Stadium

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Dec. 18.—(AP)—Z. G. Cleveland, athletic director at Indiana University, announced here that the Indiana football team has been scheduled to play Southern Methodist University at Dallas, Texas, October 25, 1930.

The game will be held in conjunction with the Texas State Fair and will be the feature of the dedication program of the new stadium, which will accommodate 80,000.

The SPOTLIGHT Grantland Rice SPORTSMAN

THE INTERFERING BACK.

"Why, Oh, why, don't writers give more space and attention to the 'interfering back' in football?" asks F. G. "He makes the ball carrier. He is responsible for most of the runs."

Which is true enough. You can put it down often enough that this axiom stands: "For football players, look in front of the ball." For example, Ralph Welch, of Purdue, was certainly as valuable as any back in the country last fall. Welch could run, block, kick and pass—which he did. But it was his value as an interfering, road-clearing back that made so many coaches wish they had him in place of star ball carriers. Welch weighed well over 200 and he could clear the way for a troop. "That big Texan," said Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, "could go out and hunt bears with his fists."

Good interfering backs are far rarer than good ball carriers. Rockne and Notre Dame usually have the highest sort of quality along this line and this accounts for a big part of Notre Dame's success—this and able line play. One fine interfering back can make an average ball carrier look like a star.

"Give me a Pest Welch," remarked Hanley, "and I won't worry about the ball carriers."

THE LEFT HAND IN GOLF.

Golf is a two-handed game, but to most golfers the left hand and left arm are merely ornaments, not to be employed in directing traffic. The average golfer always thinks he is using his left hand and arm; in fact, he is sure of it, but about 98 per cent of them don't. They may let the left side start to do some work, but when the down swing starts the left side usually collapses as the stronger hand and arm, hitting forward, take over most of the job. Correct use of the left hand, in team play with the right, is one of the foundations of correct swinging which few follow. And yet without this fundamental the swing has almost no chance of producing anything worth banking on.

COVERING A CHAMPIONSHIP.

NOTE: George Ade shows his ideas of how two other writers would have written about Purdue's recent conference triumph.

ABE MARTIN—Ez Paz hez got a boy named Orville thet's got to be a synthetic Sophomore ever since he went one term to Mohler's Barber College in Chicago. He's got an $8 Ford that he bought from the Elite Garage; two dollars down and six dollars mebbe. Him an' Artie Flahart painted th' ole bus up with a lot o' wise cracks an' went to La Fayette to see Purdue wallered around in th' mud by law, both of 'em bein' anti-Purdue an' loyal to old Mohler. All the way from Lebanon on they whizzed along on two patches an' two rims, arrivin' in time to get some dandy standin' room out toward Montmorenci. They couldn't make out the players, but they heard both bands. Orve wore a rabbit coat, a fried-egg hat an' some ribbons he got off a box o' candy, the Mohler colors bein' blood-red an' talcum. He looked so blamed much like one o' them frat boys that a dry sleuth watched him all afternoon, hopin' to get suthin' on him. It seems thet Orve wuz a little lumpy around the hips, but that wuz his lunch. After he got home, the followin' Tuesday, he reported thet th' Purdue line was too heavy for our boys.

GEORGE ADE—Once there was a School that boasted a Football Team, but for a matter of Thirty Years the Boasting came in September and the Weeping was done in November.

The Band was good all the Time, but the Team usually ran out of Reserves in the first Quarter and was then gradually reduced to Hamburger. The Boys could throw a scare into Staggs every Fall, but they were always in the Cellar when it came time to figure Percentages.

Finally a square-jawed little Irishman got them to one Side and examined thet frat boys that was not to hold the Enemy to a Low Score, but to make so many Touch-Downs that the Opposition would become non-plussed and discouraged. The Players hadn't thought of that before. So they casually rared up and won the Big Ten Championship.

And all of the Crape-Hangers came out of their Caves and said, "Well, we finally put it over."

MORAL: "If you want to be Popular, be Invincible."

"SPEED AND BALANCE."

"I don't get your idea," writes K. H. F., "about speed and balance being directly related. I can't see what they have in common. Speed is getting somewhere in a hurry. Balance is being able to control one's actions."

For example, suppose you spin a top. While the top is whirling at top speed its balance is perfect. The faster it spins the more upright it remains. But watch the top when the speed of the spinning begins to die away. It begins to wobble, off balance, before it finally falls over. Balance must always be connected with the idea of motion, not of fixed stability or immovability.

"There is one thing about these fouls in the ring," comments an on-looker. "They bring the fights to a quicker finish and when you figure how terrible most of these boxers or fighters are these sudden finishes are a great help."

ALL-STARS VOLUNTEERS

serious. Few of the average citizens are. The average citizen uses his legs but little. They haul him around the office and from the car or the car line to home. They support a growing embonpoint and softening muscles. And he rarely thinks of his legs or arms.

But your football player is leg conscious. He knows how his legs feel as it grows dark on some Saturday and the opposing team is driving gawdward with the touchdown to get hit on the knee. He knows how it feels to have a shoulder smashed.

Oh, yes, indeed, your football player is conscious of his legs and arms.

REASON WHY.
That is why, while he perhaps would refuse to admit it, the players are willing to sacrifice their holidays and their pleasures to play in Atlanta's New Year's Day. The thought of youngsters with backs strapped to boards, with legs in braces and arms held in steel supports pieces through whatever armor of sophistication an undergraduate life may have given them. I would be glad to learn how some of the sinister seekers will laze off this game. It looks like a bad week for the boys who refuse to believe IT CAN HAPPEN.

And if this be a sob story, make the most of it.

JIM SLATTERY TO GET CRACK AT RING TITLE

Will Be Awarded Light-Heavy Crown on Beat-Scorza.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(AP)—The next time "Hellier Joe" Humphries announces the new light-heavyweight champion in New York state he will be "of Buffalo," regardless of his name.

The New York state athletic commissioners, in formal session, cut themselves a large chunk of red tape and declared outright that the winner of a match between Jimmy Slattery, the veteran playboy and Lou Scozza, a rough youngster, will be regarded here as the successor to Tommy Loughran, retired 175-pound ruler. Both Scozza and Slattery hang their gloves in the up-state center between tours of the various cauliflower patches.

LOGICAL.

The announcement of the fight-fact there was with some surprise despite the logic and satisfying speed of the commission's deductions. A few weeks ago the solons named Maxey Rosenbloom, the Harlequin of Harlem, and "Hold Em" Yale Okum, both of New York, along with George Courtney, of Oklahoma, and Scotta for an elimination tourney to decide the prize. Least favored of the entries was Scozza, who has never performed in startling fashion here, while Slattery, already beaten by Loughran in a title test, was not even mentioned. Rosenbloom was an outstanding favorite, due to a sensational victory over Joe Skyrta, the Dayton Blonde, and a rough chastisement of almost every other contender of the light-heavyweight and middleweight classes.

SLATTERY WIN.

Shortly after leaving Skyrta, however, Rosenbloom fought Jimmy Slattery in Buffalo and met with surprising defeat. Slattery's victory gave him Maxie's place in the tournament.

During the past week, the other pair of contenders were eliminated. Scozza put Courtney out of the running in Detroit by winning their match on a foul December 13 after Rosenbloom had obligingly obliterated Yale Okum with a decision victory in the semifinal of the Christmas fund card here December 9. These contests left Scozza and Slattery deadlocked for recognition in the eyes of the commission. Rosenbloom's business management protested volubly, but to no avail, that Maxie's place over Okum gave the slapstick star re-entry into the tournament. The commission was wearying of it all, however, and cut things short with a final decision.

LEGISLATION.
While the commission adopted new legislation requiring both the signatures of fighters and managers to contracts, and gave champions the right to box at catchweights upon signing simultaneously for a title defense, a new alliance was formed, in the heavyweight division.

Paulino Uzcudun, the Basque wood-chopper, departed from his legion of managers to sign a two-year contract with Billy Gibson, pilot of Gene Tunney when the big marine was champion of the world. Paulino will meet an opponent not yet named at Madison Square Garden on January 10 in his first appearance under Gibson's management.

Bulldog Squad Given Luncheon

ATHENS, Ga., Dec. 18.—That all Athens is proud of the 1929 Georgia football team was clearly demonstrated today when each member of the Bulldog squad, managers, coaches, directors and all, were given a luncheon by the Rotary Club, which sponsored the movement, was represented by Lee Morris, president of the organization, and Morton Hodgson. Both men made short speeches in which they stated that all of Athens was proud of the present Georgia team. Weaver Bridges presented the players with presents. Other speakers of the occasion were Chancellor C. M. Snelling, Dr. Sanford, Head Coach Harry Mehre, Joe Boland and Herbert Maffett.

The retiring Bulldog captain received a large Red and Black Bulldog at the luncheon.

Giants Release Tony Kaufmann

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(United News).—The New York Giants today released Outfielder Tony Kaufmann on waivers to the St. Louis Cardinals. Kaufmann broke into the major leagues as a pitcher with the Chicago Cubs, but later became an outfielder when he was sent back to the minors. He spent only one season with the Giants, coming up from Rochester.

By SIDNEY HERSHEL SMALL

SYNOPSIS. John Andrew Kellogg, heir to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees, but not very graciously. When she hears that he has just lost his job she decides that he will never inherit the money his father left him. She doesn't prove herself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost his job after another he will have a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost his job after another he will have a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost his job after another he will have a sensible way.

INSTALLMENT X.
A GOOD-BYE KISS.

Anne shook her head and in the same vague tone said: "A girl I know was engaged to be married to a man who was 'in Wall Street,' he turned out to be a broker's clerk. He wore excellent clothes." John Andrew glanced at his own distrustfully. "And he spoke of knowing people; big men in the street," of the University Club . . . a college fraternity . . . he was a likeable man . . .

Silence; then John Andrew asked, "Did our friend find out about him—the terrible truth—before it was too late? And what's that got to do with you, me, and peaches?" As Anne did not reply, he went on almost quizzically. "Analyzing those words of ours, it might almost seem as if you are proposing marriage. Are you? If you are—"

Kellogg was unprepared for the girl's rush of words; she spoke almost in a whisper, and at times the clatter of dishes and slap of the rain made him lose some of them. "You don't want to be serious about anything," she said vehemently. "You don't care about anything. I'll not have you laugh at . . . at marriage. Just because you kissed me . . . do you think I've ever been kissed before?" She waved aside John Andrew's attempted interruption. "You've laughed about work every time I've mentioned it. You'd like to play at being a playboy, I suppose; you'll have to do some good inventing to get these chops"—she glanced down, as if with distaste, at the striped bones and paper frills on her plate—"into my expense account. You want me to believe that you're a playboy, some body, don't you? You've looked astonished because I would not let you buy me magazines and things; you want to make the grand gesture. Why try to fool me? I don't want any dessert. I'm going back to my car now."

"Feel any better now?" For all the ease of his tone, John Andrew's ears were red. She laughed helplessly, and started to rise. "Wait a minute," John Andrew said. "You did a rotten job of it. Better people than you, my dear—more experienced, I mean—have told me what they've thought of me, and it didn't do a bit of good. I don't say you won't succeed if you keep after me enough, but that'll take time . . . and so you'd better give me your address and take another chance at it."

"Do you think I'm going to?" "I do," John Andrew admitted. "Because, if you don't, I'm going to wait until we get to Ogden, and then come racing into your car and kiss you; I'll say something like, 'Don't tell your husband you saw me on the train.' You'll have a wonderful time the rest of the way."

"You . . . you would do it, wouldn't you?"

John Andrew grinned. "I may anyhow, but I'll leave out the speech."

"How do you know I'll give you the correct address?"

Shrugging, John Andrew said, "I ought to trust you, but after that I won't. In addition to your address, show me the picture of the name of the motion picture company on it . . . no; you needn't. And you needn't give me your address if you don't want to." As she gave it, John Andrew felt the heavy wine of satisfaction come flushing to his face. "I'll just write that down," he said quietly.

Anne was staring out of the window again. "It will be raining when my part of the train is switched off," she said without meaning.

"There's both train shed and station at Ogden," John Andrew said hopefully. "Now I'll just get off with you—you wear a hat and coat—and people'll think I've come to see you off, and . . ."

Anne was smiling again, although she gave John Andrew no other hint of assent.

"And I won't wait until the last second, either," John Andrew said. "Now, I'll walk back to your car with you."

He felt that he had known Anne a very long time; the constant companionship on the train, he supposed, was responsible for this feeling. Several times in the past they had played bridge with two other travelers; more often, magazines unopened in their hands, they had sat and talked. They had acted a little part for their fellow voyagers, acting as old friends in conversation, willy-nilly, had become intimate. John Andrew even knew a little of Anne's hopes and plans, although he himself, at first from reserve and after because he was not proud of the reason, had not told her why he was going west; had avoided the subject as subtly as he could.

Piecemeal, Kellogg had been able to put some of Anne Ames' picture together. She had done something with guild theaters; she intended to capitalize what John Andrew agreed was a charmingly clear voice in Hollywood.

He knew that a good voice would not be enough; that she was pretty Kellogg was willing to admit, but whether her immature figure, like a boy's, lean at the hip, without even suggestion of bud above, would interest the men who selected actresses, was something about which he, for her sake, was fearful. Girls of 20 or 22, he felt, were all charming and mostly pretty. Anne, when you came to know her face, was lovely. Her eyes were gilded brown; her hair, brown also, was very shining and, in the sun, gold-shot. She was mobile, quick as a bird in gesture. John Andrew, who knew instinctively about such things, admired the way in which she walked.

What surprised him most was her entire unwillingness to permit him to buy her so much as a magazine. Never in all his life had John Andrew met any one like that. Even in things which would cost him nothing she refused him. Remembering that Craig had once said something about one of the great motion picture actresses, John Andrew had been able to say nothing more than, "I know a man who ought to arrange a hearing for you, when she had shaken her head. Whether it was because she didn't want his help, or because she didn't believe in him, he didn't know. John Andrew was casually natural in all his actions, but Anne, the one who liked the man, was merely bluffing. Yes, it had been very easy to live up to his Scotch resolution while he was with her . . .

Something in the girl's independence also kept John Andrew silent about his own fears and problem. He found that it would give him no pleasure at all to explain how he'd lost his job, how he hadn't an idea as to the way to consummate satisfactorily his present one. If he had explained the situation to her, she'd probably have said, "It's a grand story, John Andrew; am I expected to believe it?" He wouldn't have given the tale credence himself if some one had told it to him. It sounded too much like . . . one of those things.

He was no nearer anything like a plan to double the $5,000 now than he had been when Craig first read him the paragraph from the will.

The train was slowing; two passengers leaving the Los Angeles car at Ogden were already in the vestibule when John Andrew found the courage to ask: "That girl you were telling me about, Anne, the one who liked the clerk. Did she find out about him before or after they were married?"

Anne said slowly, avoiding John Andrew's eyes, "She didn't."

"And so she didn't—"

"I've already given you the answer to that, haven't I?"

"Why . . . why, yes, you have. I'm pretty dumb, but it's the rain. My head never works well when it rains. No she married him anyhow, eh?" Anne was silent. John Andrew stumbled on. "No accounting for tastes, is there?"

"No," Anne said softly.

John Andrew said, "Oh."

"And with that," Anne said blithely, but not looking at him, "we end a very pleasant trip. Thanks for being nice to me, John Andrew. And even if you don't come to Los Angeles"—it sounded to John Andrew that she did expect him to—"in your Rolls, after you've made the million"—and that sounded worse than before—"you've entertained me deliciously."

The train shuddered to a stop. All of the passengers were crowded into the narrow passageway and stood with their backs to Anne and John Andrew, waiting to get off and pace up and down under the shelter of the long sheds. Across John Andrew's vision swept again enough to dizzy him. With it came the dire need for caution, and yet, as he blinked once, he saw nothing but the tantalizing girl on the seat beside him. He said, repeating, "Entertainment, Anne? Well, after the play, just before the curtain falls, this usually happens, doesn't it?"

John Andrew kissed her.

A trans-Pacific liner, flying the sun flag of Japan, slid through the water of the channel hardly leaving any wake; not the old China in which John Andrew had come to the States, but a new, tremendous vessel. He watched it as it gained speed and swung at last between Telegraph hill and Alcatraz. He remembered, but dimly, the lonely, frightened boy who had come to America. . . .

Little Meriem could scarcely recall any other existence than that of the stern cruelty of the sheik and Mabunu. Dimly, though, in her childish memory lurked the blurred recollections of a gentle mother.

"Oh, Geeka," she would whisper to the doll, "why have I no mother, and why does the sheik, my father, not love me?" Today as she poured out her troubles to Geeka she heard the sounds of wrangling beyond the village gates.

With the curiosity of childhood, Meriem listened. Presently she heard the crowd moving up the street toward the sheik's tent. Cautiously she stuck her little head around the edge of the tent. She saw two strangers—white men. They were alone; but as they approached she learned from the natives' talk that they possessed a considerable following that was camped outside the village and had come to trade for ivory.

The old Arab met them at the entrance to his tent, his eyes narrowing wickedly as he listened. Then the sheik said: "I have no ivory." Meriem gasped. She knew that in a nearby hut the great tusks were piled high. She took a step forward to get a better view of the strangers. How yellow their hair was! How white their skin! Suddenly one of them saw her. Meriem noticed the look of shocked surprise crossing his face, as he dodged from sight.

The sheik saw it, too, and guessed the cause of it. "I have no ivory," he repeated. "I do not wish to trade. Go away. Go now." It would have been suicide to have disobeyed. The two strangers turned and left the village. The sheik walked to where Meriem hid, very frightened, clutched her by the arm and dragged her into the tent, beating her ruthlessly. "Stay within," he growled. "Never let the strangers see thy face again or I shall kill you."

meeting of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, which was held at the home of Mrs. Cates, last night. The board, which is composed of realtors, met for the first time since the election of Cates as president.

A trophy was presented to Robert R. Otis as the member of the board whose services to it during the year had been the most successful and outstanding. Mr. Thompson told the members of the board that the board's contribution to the city in the matter of real estate problems of various kinds.

The naming of Mr. Otis was made by a committee composed of Morris Ewing, Paul D. Reid and Mr. McKinley.

In making his report for the year Mr. Thompson reviewed the work of the board through its various committees, to whom members have given credit for their energy and co-operation. He stressed particularly the appreciation the board felt toward the Atlanta newspapers, which had cooperated so efficiently in giving publicity to the various activities of the board.

Paul C. Maddox, winner of the contest for the best "home town" speaker at the state convention, sat at the same table with the handsome trophy, a huge cup, that was awarded to him at Macon.

A total of 115 members was reported present by Julian Binford, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Other committee chairmen reported on various phases of the board's activities during the year.

Paul C. Maddox addressed the salesmen who were not board members, urging them to join, and Ward Wight presented the Otis trophy. The meeting closed with an elaborate vaudeville entertainment in charge of John O. Chiles, Jesse Draper and other members of the entertainment committee.

John J. Thompson, retiring president, presented the Atlanta Real Estate Board at the Atlanta Athletic Club Wednesday night.

R. Weldon Evans, sales manager of J. H. Ewing & Sons, was elected first vice president; Milton H. Liebman, of Liebman, Inc., second vice president; Paul C. Maddox, of Maddox & Tinsinger, treasurer, and Harry Hallman, of the Hallman-Whitton Company, secretary. The nominating committee was presented through J. H. Whitton, chairman of the nominating committee.

HOUSE APPROVES
HOOVER PROPOSAL FOR HAITI PROBE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18. (AP)—Approval of President Hoover's recommendation that a commission investigate conditions in Haiti was given today by the house.

Action on the proposal moved to the senate, where a vote is not expected until after the Christmas holidays due to the absence of many senators from the city.

The house accepted the resolution sponsored by Representative Porter, republican, Pennsylvania, without a record vote. It also adopted an amendment by Representative Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, to provide for the commission of seven, to be appointed by the president, report to congress as well as to the chief executive within six months.

OAKLAND CAR DEALERS CONFER HERE TODAY

Sales programs and policies for 1930 will be outlined to Oakland-Pontiac dealers from five states today by Hugh Higginbotham, eastern sales manager, and other officials of the Oakland Motor Car Company at an all-day meeting at the Biltmore hotel.

D. M. House, sales manager of the Atlanta zone, will be host to the dealers, who will come to Atlanta from Georgia, Alabama, east Tennessee and parts of Florida and South Carolina for the meeting.

Mr. Higginbotham and Mr. House, accompanied by other officials from the headquarters of the Oakland Motor Car Company at Pontiac, Mich., will arrive in Atlanta from Jacksonville, Fla., where a similar meeting of the Florida dealers was held Wednesday.

The Oakland Motor Car Company is conservatively optimistic over the prospects for 1930, and the production schedule will be based upon the orders the factory receives from its dealer organization.
